Ohio Correction Chief Says State Needs Crime Prevention Bureau

By BILL TERRY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Where can you get the complete picture of crime in Ohio?

How do you know which communities are doing the best job of preventing crime? Where do you find the most major crimes, and why?

M. C. Koblentz, chief of the state division of correction, would like to know the answers. He thinks many more Ohioans are interested in them, too.

But you just can't put your hand on them readily, and Koblentz would like to correct that.

Koblentz would like to see a new agency formed—either a private or public body—that would take on the job of crime prevention on a statewide basis. It would deal with both adult and juvenile crime.

"There now is no Ohio governmental agency whose prime responsibility is crime prevention," Koblentz says. The present agencies are concerned mainly with catching, detaining and treating the criminal.

"Sure, some big police department may have crime prevention bureaus, but no department makes this its main business."

Its a big field, Koblentz admits, and some churches, welfare agencies, schools civic groups and others are interested in particular phases.

"They're sincere and doing a good job as far as they can go," says Koblentz. "But they individually are unable to cope with the total crime prevention problem. There are a number of reasons. Maybe there aren't enough properly - trained people. Perhaps there's not enough money.

"What Ohio needs," he continued, 'is a central clearinghouse where the good work now being done on a limited basis can be recognized and passed on to other communities as examples.

"This central agency—and it doesn't necessarily have to be part of government—would meet head-on the problem of preventing crime. It would gather and correlate statistics on crime in Ohio and Pinpoint the high crime areas.

"It would interchange crime prevention programs among various communities, so everyone would know at once which programs work, which don't produce too good results.

"If a community requested," he went on, "the agency would supply persons trained in establishing and developing programs to combat adult and juvenile delinquency."

Koblentz and his assistants give many talks before civic and other groups. In the coming months they will explain Koblentz's idea for the agency. And they'll also be listening, for suggestions on how it can be set up.

Koblentz is a director of the American Correctional Assn. and is vice president of the Central Correctional States Assn. Members of the two groups are concerned about the way prison populations have jumped since the end of World War II.

Ohio's prison population at the end of that war was 6,600. It stands at 10,600 now and Koblentz predicts that in two years it will be 12,000.

Since 1950, crime increased 27 per cent nationally while the population of the United States rose 7 per cent. During the first six months of this year major crime throughout the nation increased 14 per cent over those during the corresponding months of 1955. That was the highest percentage increase in the last 10 years and is based on Federal Bureau of Investigation records.

Ohio courts now report annually to the secretary of state, cases brought before them. These don't include unsolved crimes or those for which there were no indictments.

"We're treating the symptoms of crime, the offenders, but we're not doing enough to determine and stamp out the causes of crime," Koblentz said.

"A police department is primarily set up to catch and hold criminals" he added "even though its officials may have a desire to do more crime prevention work."

Koblentz estimates major crime costs Ohio one-half billion dollars a year.

"That's a lot of money and a statewide agency to determine and tell others about the best ways o preven crime certainly would pay for itself."

NO CHARGE FILED

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Hey diddle, diddle, the cat and the fiddle, the cow jumped over the police cruiser—well, she almost did.

A Holstein cow wandered away from an east side stockyards and led police a merry chase. At one point, she was sprawled over the hood of a new police cruiser when she failed to get enough lift in her leap.

Although the cruiser was damaged, the cow was not charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Nixon Accuses Democrats Of 'Cruel Hoax'

COLUMBUS Neb. (AP) — Vice President Nixon accused Democrats today of "a cruel hoax" to snare the farm vote.

The high rigid price support policies they advocate, Nixon said in a talk prepared for the National Mechanical Corn Picking Contest would slam a lid on what he termed "the upward trend in farm income."

To farmers considered by both parties to be restive this election year Nixon said:

"The get-rich-quick promises that our opponents have made . . . are just as impossible to keep with the type of program they advocate as would be their promise to guarantee rain in the drought-stricken areas."

Nixon urged the farmers to put their faith in the administration program that includes flexible price supports a soil bank plan under which farmers can qualify for benefits by taking some land out of production and efforts to increase markets for farm products.

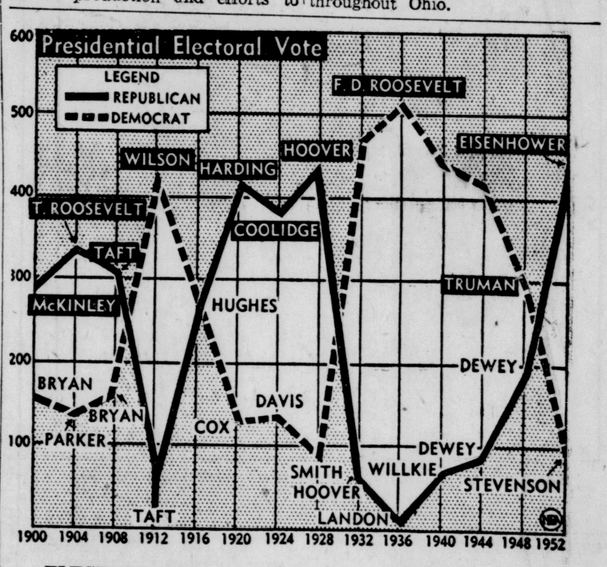

This program Nixon said "is working and will continue to work because it cuts right to the heart of the problem."

Nixon's foray into the farm battlefield followed by a day his retort to Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson's charge the Republican administration has shown indifference to the interests of labor, the unemployed and other segments of society.

The vice president stepped up his campaign pace with a speech at Boulder, Colo., Thursday night in which he described Stevenson's proposals for the economic future as "Alice in Wonderland" economics "a costly grab-bag of government goodies" that would cost 15 to 20 billion dollars annually raising the average family's taxes $320 a year if the budget were to be balanced.

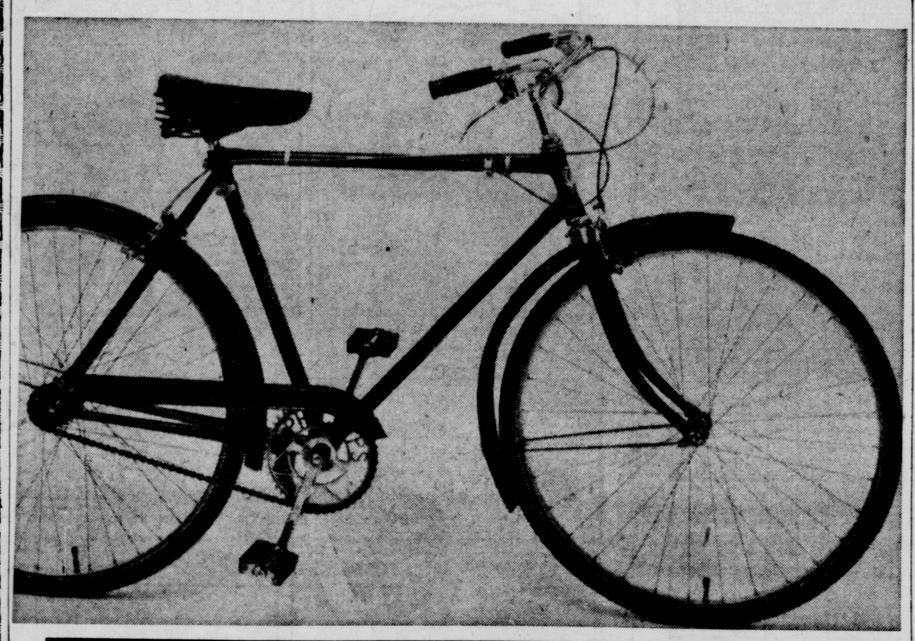

CELEBRATES COLUMBUS DAY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus celebrates Columbus Day today by placing wreaths at two statutes of the famed explorer for which the city was named. The statutes are at the statehouse and city hall grounds. The holiday also closed state liquor stores and agencies throughout Ohio.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE—Newschart shows the ups and downs of the electoral vote since 1900 when McKinley defeated Bryan. In 1932, Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the Democrats into the White House where they remained for 20 years. In the 56 years since the turn of the century the Republicans and Democrats each have been in power for 28 years. In the 1936 election Franklin D. Roosevelt showed he was the champion vote-getter by amassing 523 electoral votes, an all-time high. That same year, Alfred M. Landon polled only eight, smallest total recorded by a major party candidate in modern times.

Salem Frosh Beat Alliance Stanton

The Salem freshman football team won a thriller Thursday afternoon at Reilly Stadium when it defeated a fighting squad from Stanton of Alliance 12-6.

Late in the second quarter, Fred Phillis pranced around right end for four yards and a touchdown to climax a 76-yard Salem drive. The extra point was missed.

Midway in the third period, the Stanton eleven started rolling and moved 60 yards, with Frank Muniz going the last 36 yards on an end sweep for the tally. The try for extra was missed.

The Quaker yearlings came through with the clincher with just a minute and thirty seconds remaining, when Fred Phillis scored his second six-pointer of the afternoon, going six yards around left end, after a 65 yard march.

Western Open Tourney In Second Round

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A tightly bunched field of tournament veterans took out today after a pair of relatively obscure 68 shooters in the second round of the Western Open Golf Tournament.

Defending champion Cary Middlecoff of Dallas shot a 2-under-par 70 in his opening round to stay within easy reach of the front - running Californians who burned up the windy Presidio course in 4 under par Thursday.

The starting field of 162 was whacked for the second round, with 25 of the lesser lights sidelined as Chula Vista professional Bill Casper and Alameda amateur Johnny McMullin set out to show whether their initial 68s were flashes in the pan or whether this was their time to take the big name contingent.

Right up there with a 69 for a starter was pro Don January, Lampasa, Tex., former North Texas State College ace. He won the Dallas Centennial Tournament, a $6,000 show last May and is the 18th ranking money winner among the pros.

Tied with Middlecoff at 70 were George Bayer giant slugger from Grossingers, N.Y.; Jay Herbert, Sanford, Fla.; amateur Ed Castagnetto, San Francisco; Big Mike Souchak, Durham, N.C.; Ron Nicol, Los Angeles; and Lloyd Mangrum, Apple Valley, Calif.

Except for Casper and the surprising McMullin, nobody tore the three-lined rolling Presidio course apart in the opening round, although 18 players turned in subpar cards and 12 more succeeded in doing it in par.

Consider Franchise Shift For Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Calvin Griffith said he would seek today to persuade President Will Harridge of the American League to keep an open mind on a possible franchise shift for the Washington Senators.

Harridge said in Chicago Thursday the league "could not afford" to call a meeting to consider transfer of the franchise unless there was harmony among Washington officials.

That was a reference to the statement by H. Gabriel Murphy, club treasurer and largest single stockholder, that he opposes any plan to move the Senators out of Washington and will fight it in the courts if necessary.

Murphy owns 40 per cent of the Washington baseball club stock. Members of the family of the late Clark Griffith control 52 per cent. Calvin Griffith, the club president, has said he is seriously weighing a shift to Los Angeles or some other city.

The deadline for any franchise shift to become effective next year is Oct. 31. Harridge said there would be nothing to gain if Griffith asked fellow club owners to take up the matter unless all stockholders were represented in the request."

A franchise shift requires favorable votes from six of the eight clubs in the loop.

Reveals Berra Advice Helped Win Series

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Catcher Yogi Berra gave the Yankees some sound advice as well as some sound hitting in the World Series, a co-owner of the New York club said today.

Del Webb, who flew into Phoenix from New York, said Berra got into a Yankee strategy huddle Tuesday night and swung the group in favor of starting young Johnny Kucks in the final series game.

Webb said Berra advised: "Let Kucks pitch and the Dodgers'll beat it into the ground."

The way it turned out, the Dodgers got only three hits off Kucks and managed to hit only five balls into the outfield as the Yanks won 9-0—with some help from two Berra homers.

Ohio State Buckeyes One-Touchdown Favorites Over Illinois

Roseboro, Clark To Pace Attack

Game Will Be 45th Between Schools

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's Bucks abandoned their ground attack today and took to the airways—just long enough to fly to Illinois for Saturday's Western Conference opener.

The Bucks, with victories over Nebraska and Stanford tucked away, are one-touchdown favorites over Ray Eliot's Illini who defeated California and then dropped a verdict to Washington.

Ohio State will be going after its third straight Big Ten title and its 14th straight conference victory, as well as the third in a row over Illinois. In the last 10 years the Bucks have won five, lost four and tied one with Illinois.

The two-game statistics give Ohio the slightest of edges. Each team has registered 36 first downs, the Illinois has allowed the foe to move 670 yards while Ohio has given up 667 yards.

Illinois has fumbled the ball away four times, and had two passes intercepted, but the Bucks haven't made a miscue.

Among the big questions is whether the Illini forward wall, averaging 210 pounds, can contain the Buck land assault. In two games the Ohioans have had the ball 24 times, scoring 10 touchdowns, punting nine times, losing it three times on downs, and the clock halting them twice.

One touchdown came on a blocked punt, but the Ohioans drove a total of 562 yards for the other nine—an average of 62.4 yards for each payoff under their "possession" type of play.

Saturday's game is the 45th in the long series dating back to 1902. Of the 44 to date, Ohio has won 25, lost 16 and tied 3. Game time is 1:30 p.m. (EST), and the crowd is expected to exceed 60,000.

The game will be telecast by NBC, and also will be carried by at least 14 Ohio radio stations.

Illinois, with quarterback Hiles Stout doing the passing, will offer a better balanced attack than Ohio's first two opponents. The Illini have gained 432 yards in 103 rushes, and 220 yards on completions of 14 of 30 aerials. Nebraska concentrated on a ground attack against Ohio, while Stanford took to the airways, with the Bucks halting both.

Abe Woodson, Illinois right halfback, is the all-around threat. He has scored two touchdowns, has a 41-yard average of eight punts, rushed 24 times for 106 yards and caught five passes for 107.

Ohio's two speedy halfbacks, sophomore Don Clark of Akron and Jimmy Roseboro, Ashland senior, have combined for 417 yards rushing in two games, each carrying 24 times. The entire Illinois team, in 103 rushes, has outgained the two Buckeye groundeaters by only 15 yards. Clark and Roseboro have four touchdowns each for a 48-point total, three more than Illinois has amassed in two tilts.

Along with their brilliant running, Roseboro has caught two passes for 43 yards and a touchdown, and Clark completed his only aerial for 18 yards and a score.

New York Giants Get Outfielder, 2 Pitchers

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants, who have promised their followers a new look next season, have started by selling a veteran pitcher to the Philadelphia Phillies and purchasing two promising farm hands from Minneapolis of the American Assn.

Jim Hearn, 33-year old righthander who had a 5-11 record last season, was sold to the Phillies. In a companion deal, Minneapolis Millers purchased the contract of Stu Miller, another righthanded pitcher with a 4 - 9 mark, from the Phillies.

In the deal with the Millers, the Giants obtained outfielder Willie Kirkland and righthanded pitcher Curt Barclay. Kirkland, 22, hit .293 and drove in 120 runs while collecting 35 doubles, 12 triples and 37 home runs for the Millers. Barclay, 25, finished with a 15-11 record.

John Holland Replaces Hack As Chicago Cubs Manager

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs are convinced that old brooms sweep cleaner.

They were expected to complete their house cleaning today by naming Bob Scheffing, one of their ex-catchers, as field manager.

There isn't much of a new look in the Cubs' shakeup from front office to the field which started Thursday when Personnel Director Wid Matthews, Business Manager Jim Gallagher and skipper Stan Hack resigned.

Returning to his third hitch with the club is Charlie Grimm. Joining him in the reorganized front office is John Holland, in baseball 35 of his 46 years and on the Cub pay roll the last 11.

They were given titles of vice president.

Holland, as president of the Cubs' Los Angeles farm in the Pacific Coast League, and Scheffing as field manager, produced a pennant this year.

Remaining as executive vice president of the Cubs is another veteran, 75-year-old Clarence (Pants) Rowland.

They have the assignment of lifting the Cubs up by the bootstraps after 10 dismal seasons in the National League second division.

The Cubs finished 1956 in last place for the fourth time since 1949 and with 94 defeats, worst record in their history.

Matthews was Branch Rickey's "talent man" with the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers when Cub owner P. K. Wrigley hired him in 1950. He is a smiling, 59-year-old gentleman who sincerely thought the Cubs were on the climb and received the brunt of criticism when they kept tailspinning.

No sooner had Wid resigned than Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, said that he "is a very capable fellow and we'd like to have him in our organization."

Gallagher, a former Chcago sports writer, had been with the Cubs since 1940. One rumor has him winding up across town wth the White Sox.

Hack was a long-time third baseman for the Cubs and managed the Des Moines and Los Angeles farm clubs before replacing one of his former teammates, Phil Cavarretta, at the helm in the spring of 1954. He was the Bruins' fourth manager in eight years.

Key man in the new order appears to be Holland, a stocky mildmannered man who cut his teeth on a baseball bat.

"There won't be any title except that of vice president," said Wrigley. "The only time you have to designate authority is when there is a conflict. There definitely will be no general manager. I'm allergic to them."

Vice President Grimm, however, said that "Holland is the 'general manager' and will run the show. I will work closely with the organization."

Grimm, who resigned last June as pilot of the Milwaukee Braves, has been a Cub favorite ever since he broke in as the team's first baseman in 1925. He was manager from 1932 until 1938, when he quit, and he returned to the club as manager in 1944.

The Cubs won the pennant under Grimm in 1932, 1935 and 1945, but started their nosedive in 1946. In 1949 Grimm was moved up to the post of vice president.

Grimm soon tired of his front office job. He resigned to accept an attractive contract to manage Dallas in the Texas League, departing ith the assertion that "these hands were never made to carry a briefcase."

He became manager of the Braves, then in Boston, in 1952.

Grimm, who says his new duties ill be to visit Cub farms, keep a sharp eye out for prospects, and hunt down any talent Holland may have in mind, now declares:

"I've finished my job on the field and if I have to grab a brief case now, I think I'll be able to do it with a little practice."

Detroit Red Wings Beat Black Hawks

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Red Wings, ousted last season by Montreal as the king pin of the National Hockey League after a 7-year reign, have lost no time declaring their intentions for the 1956-57 campaign.

The Wings opened the NHL schedule Thursday night with a 3-1 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks in one of the two games which ushered in the new season. In the other the Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston's Bruins played to a 4-4 tie.

The Red Wings spotted the Black Hawks an early goal and then rallied in the last two periods for victory. After Hank Ciesla had scored for the Hawks, Norman Ullman and Metro Prystai tallied in the second period to send the Wings ahead. Veteran Ted Lindsay added an insurance goal in the final session.

Alumni Grid Game Planned

Salem, Leetonia Clubs Study Possibilities

Coach Earle Bruce discussed this Friday night's encounter with the undefeated East Palestine Bulldogs when the Booster Club met last night at the Memorial Building. Movies of last week's game with Newton Falls were shown.

During the meeting, Guy Beltempo, representing the Leetonia Boosters Club, said the Leetonia club wanted to arrange a Leetonia alumni versus a Salem alumni football game at the conclusion of the season.

A committee was chosen to study the possibilities of having such a game.

Dave Brisken, John Cabas, Peanuts Denor, Fred Cope, Paul Harp, J. S. Jones, E. P. Schmauch, Reno Menichelli, Aldom Smith and John Sebo, committeemen, will meet with representatives from Leetonia Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Memorial Building.

System Of Selecting Olympic Members Hit

OXFORD Ohio (AP)—Glenn Cunningham once America's top mile runner calls the American system of selecting Olympic team members through qualifying meets "completely insane."

Cunningham, speaking Thursday at an assembly of high school pupils blamed the qualifying system for America's poor showing in Olympic middle and long distance runs. And he predicted this country would fare badly in this year's Olympics in those events.

American Olympic team members are selected in qualifying meets and previous performances are not considered.

"The men are run to death before they get to the games" said Cunningham.

"Consistency of performance should mean something in qualifying."

Philadelphia—Jimmy Soo, 139 Philadelphia, stopped Billy Jones, 136, Allentown, Pa., 5.

OSU-Illinois Tilt Tops Grid Card

Buckeyes Seek 3rd Big 10 Championship

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State's opening defense of its Big Ten football title against Illinois tops card of four conference games Saturday.

The Buckeyes, victorious over Nebraska and Stanford in tune-up encounters, hope to nail down an unprecedented third successive Big Ten championship this season. They place a record of 13 straight conference victories on the line at Illinois.

The Illini also will be opening its Big Ten campaign after defeating California and losing to Washington.

Michigan State, Iowa and Minnesota, each with one league decision so far, will try to remain atop the standings in conference clashes.

Minnesota's Gophers, who whipped Purdue 21-14, are host to Northwestern. Michigan State, off an important 9-0 decision over Michigan, entertains Indiana. Iowa, with a 27-0 opening season win over Indiana, is at home to Wisconsin.

Each of the home teams is favored to capture its second Big Ten triumph.

Northwestern has a 1-1 nonleague record with a 14-13 edge over Iowa State and a 20-13 loss to Tulane. Indiana, in addition to being trounced by Iowa, was dropped 20-6 by Notre Dame. Wisconsin, after opening with a 41-0 field day against Marquette, was defeated 13-6 by Southern California.

Rounding out the schedule is the Michigan-Army game at Ann Arbor and Purdue at Notre Dame.

The favorites are rated this way: Ohio State by 13 over Illinois, Iowa by 3 over Wisconsin, Notre Dame by 7 over Purdue, Michigan by 13 over Army, Minnesota by 14 over Northwestern and Michigan State by 27 over Indiana.

Golf Pros Adopt Rules Governing Conduct

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Golf's professionals seeking better relations with sponsors, the public and newsmen have instituted a program of self-examination.

Ed Carter the new tourney bureau manager of the Professional Golfers Assn. told of the self-examination plans today during the Western Open.

All the committees are due to present reports and recommendations in December.

To eliminate such things as temper tantrums Carter envisions a rule designating "conduct unbecoming a gentleman."

"No golfer wants that said of him" Carter says in explaining a feeling that the "ungentlemanly" tag will gain more results than monetary fines.

'We hope to achieve an overhaul on everything being covered by the committees."

These groups include threesomes studying press relations proposed rule changes commitments and withdrawals and other elements affecting proper conduct of tournaments.

Oklahoma Sooners Expect To Make Record 'Official'

By MIKE RATHET
The Associated Press

Oklahoma's Sooners expect to make it official Saturday.

Bud Wilkinson's lads went out and lashed Kansas State 66-0 last week to apparently snap their own major college record for consecutive wins, making the wildcats their 32nd straight victim.

But the NCAA Service Bureau Thursday came up with a new wrinkle and decided that Pittsburgh held the previous record from 1914-1919 by accumulating 33. The Sooners should have little trouble equaling the Panthers' record against Texas.

Oklahoma, No. 1 in the weekly Associated Press poll, ironically gets and opportunity to tie the mark against the same team it defeated to start its string. In 1953 the Sooners overcame the stubborn Longhorns 19-14.

The nation's second-ranked team the Spartans from Michigan State, go after their third in a row tonight, meeting Indiana, which bowed to Notre Dame last week. The Spartans will be minus the services of their rugged halfback Walt owalczyk, who has an ailing ankle.

In the only major action tonight, Miami, straining to hop into the nation's top 10 teams, meets the weakened Maryland squad.

All the top teams, except Southern California, see action Saturday. Georgia Tech, No. 3 on the basis of two tough wins—Kentucky 14-6 and Southern Methodist 9-7, will display its most potent offense against Louisiana State. For the first time this season quarterback Wade Mitchell and half George Volkert will be together.

Fourth-ranking Texas Christian should be able to spring Jim Swink loose against winless Alabama. Ohio State (No. 5) faces a tough challenge in Big Ten opponent Illinois, while Tennessee (No. 6) tackles Chattanooga. Mississippi (No. 7) faces a stern test in upset - minded Vanderbilt. Ninth-rated Texas A&M battles Houston at night and 10th rated Baylor with three victories, meets the Razorbacks of Arkansas.

In the Ivy League, Brown and Dartmouth clash in a battle of also rans. Columbia will try to get its initial score of the season against Yale. Penn will be looking to lengthen its one - game winning streak at the hands of favored Princeton, and Cornell plays Harvard.

In other eastern tests, Boston U. meets George Washington under the lights and Syracuse hosts West Virginia.

On the coast, California is at Oregon State; Stanford tests San Jose State; UCLA battles Washington State, and Washington meets Oregon.

Calhoun-Sullivan Fight Set Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Both Rory Calhoun and John L. Sullivan, who fight in a middleweight 10-rounder at the arena tonight, hope to get Joey Giardello as next opponent. And the experts hereabouts say Calhoun will be the one whose hope is still alive Saturday.

But the experts were wrong in placing their bets two weeks ago when Giardello whipped Bobby Boyd and sent his stock as a middleweight contender way up.

Giardello, who hasn't been committed to met tonight's winner, will be on hand to watch Sullivan, veteran from England, swap punches with the 22-year-old Calhoun, an Atlanta minister's son now fighting out of White Plains, N.Y.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 9 p.m., EST.

NAVY GOES ROCKOON HUNTING—Pictured at left is a "rockoon," a rocket-carrying plastic balloon that the Office of Naval Research is using to probe secrets of near-space. Balloons 69 feet in diameter lift the 12-foot-long rockets to heights where relatively small propulsion charges will send them on their brief runs over the ocean off San Diego, Calif., after balloons are launched from a research ship. At right is the electronic "hound-dog" which tracks balloons and receives radio signals broadcast from instruments in the rockets. Data gathered will be used to prepare for more extensive probing of the upper atmosphere during the International Geophysical Year.

Dog Runs Away; Takes 6-Year-Old Boy Along

DETROIT (AP)—Six-year-old Donnie knew 5 - year - old Beulah shouldn't be running away from home like that so he took out after her. He caught her, but his four-foot, 50 - pound frame was no match for her four-foot, 90-pound one, and Beulah had a yen to roam.

Donnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rivard and Beulah is their boxer dog.

Donnie said Beulah didn't want to go home, so he followed, yanking to no avail now and then on her chain collar.

Police spotted a big dog and a small boy trudging along more than a mile from Donnie's home. So when Donnie's alarmed parents called an hour later the police knew where to start looking.

"I'm lost," Donnie told policemen. "I didn't want to come down here, but Bulah did."

Judge To Rule On Powell Confession

CINCINNATI (AP)—Criminal Court Judge Charles S. Bell will rule Monday on whether an alleged confession by Denver Powell, 45, of El Centro, Calif., shall be introduced in evidence in Powell's first degree murder trial.

Powell is accused of having participated in the holdup-slaying of delicatessen operator Joseph Schreck on Nov. 27, 1949.

Judge Bell Thursday recessed the trial until Monday after having spent most of two days listening to testimony in connection with Powell's alleged confession. The jury has been excused during the testimony on the statement.

Powell has claimed he was questioned for many hours with only a glass of milk and a sandwich for food, that he had little sleep and that he was threatened and hit by police officers.

Detective Lytle Young, one of the interrogators, testified Thursday that Powell was treated "very courteously" and that he was neither threatened nor hit.

Asst. Prosecutor Donald Roney also denied that he made any special promises to Powell and said, "I urged him to tell the truth."

At one point, Defense Atty. George C. Allen said he was try George C. Allen said he was trying to show that Powell was "definitely under psychological pressure."

"I don't know what you are talking about — psychological pressure," Judge Bell said. ". . . I know of no confession that has been ruled out because of psychological pressure. Some may have been ruled out for physical force or promises but not for what's on a defendant's mind."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Angry poltical leaders are peeking into each others pockets right now to discover how much the other side is spending on the campaign — and to denounce each other for having the money to spend.

Victor Reisel

Point is that every presidential year the political treasurers on all sides spend about $140,000,000 in cash and that's just a small part of what it costs to elect your men.

Irritated Republicans are charging that labor is pouring millions into the Democratic campaign—and Walter Reuther coolly retorts that his union just about matches the expenditures of four millionaire families.

-:-

BOTH SIDES ARE right. And neither side is ever going to estimate the high cost of politicking — especially not the cost of labor's campaign. How, for example, can you fix the cost of the 62 national representatives of the Transport Workers Union which Mike Quill has peeled off his staff for the duration and assigned to the AFL - CIO national political machine.

How can you put money value on the 600 special canvassers which the New York Hatters Union has swung into the field to ring door bells?

Or how much does it cost for the men's clothing workers to put two-man teams — one speaking English, the other Spanish — into the shops at noon time to urge workers to register and vote and to hand out sample literacy tests to Puerto Rican workers?

What's the tab on other such teams who are going into one laundry a day to enthuse voters into the polling places?

TROUBLE IS THAT everybody wants to count the big money spent. There is Sen. Carl Curtis, who is allergic to labor's political activity. He comes up with what sounds like an authentic figure on labor's total radio and TV broadcasts. Curtis reports that there are between 1,500 and 2,000 union sponsored airwave shows a week.

Judging from what I've just observed in a swing around the eastern circle, that's about right. In New York alone, the CIO contracted with every radio station in the state for several announcements daily during registration week. Starting this week the first of four state-wide TV shows will be aired.

This goes on in almost every state in which there is a big central AFL or CIO council. Certainly most of the 35 Democratic Party state labor committees sponsor shows regularly.

BUT THOSE ARE just a small part of labor's campaign. The real drive, which will make or break the Democratic candidates, is made up of less dramatic, but intriguing campaign gimmicks the cost of which no one can estimate.

Reuther's Auto Union, for example, has a giant mobile political headquarters in the field, in the shape of a huge trailer which rumbles into community after community in advance of the Democratic Party's candidates throughout New York.

In Waterloo, Iowa, the labor council runs a contest, picking out winners at $100 a throw. To qualify, each winner must have registered and voted. If your spouse voted too, and you win, you get an additional $50.

WHEN I WAS OUT in Milwaukee last week, the Wisconsin labor people had rented the big South Side Armory for a "non-partisan" debate between Philleo Nash, chairman of the state Democratic party, and Philip Kuehn, his Republican counterpart. When the GOP chief arrived he found the place decorated with signs attacking Eisenhower and Nixon and wryly observed that neutrality was not exactly exuding from each delegate.

The audience finally voted 169 to 3 against President Eisenhower. This was, of course, labor's privilege. But it was more a campaign really than a debate and any cost accountant would have charged it off to the Stevenson campaign.

In Washington on Oct. 5, Democratic Party's Advisory Committee on Labor met and heard that some of its union affiliates had spent some time and some money on polls conducted by either outside opinion takers or their own people. The polls showed heavy support for Adlai Stevenson, according to word from the meetinb.

-:-

THERE ARE A thousand such incidents each day. They match, on the other side, contributions by business of "hotel suites, airplanes and even stamp machines" to political candidates.

The point is no one can count the actual cost of these indirect expenditures. Industry spends heavily. Labor spends heavily. And more and more the contenders are evenly matched.

ROLL-CALL OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP—Volunteers letter a three-block-long scroll in Wausau, Wis., with the names of all registered voters as they prepare for an all-out drive to become the first city in the nation to have 100 per cent registration for the forthcoming election. The scroll was to be carried in a torchlight parade as workers conducted a door-to-door campaign to smoke out every reluctant registrant before their Oct. 24 deadline.

Bender, Lausche Trade Blasts

Speak At Luncheon Of Columbus Club

By The Associated Press

Republican Sen. George H. Bender, seeking reelection Nov. 6, and his Democratic opponent Gov. Frank J. Lausche engaged in their first face-to-face verbal exchange of the campaign Thursday.

The clash came at what was billed as a "non-political" luncheon meeting of the Thursday Club at the Spring Street YMCA in Columbus. The club a group of Negro business and professional men had invited Lausche to address the luncheon. Bender came at the request of a club member.

Bender told the luncheon he was campaigning on his record of 40 years in public life and said "I think you will find that my record is good for the common man."

In reference to a statement Lausche has made that under certain circumstances he might vote with the Republicans to organize the Senate, Bender said:

"His (Lausche's) saying that he is waiting to see how he is going to vote is a lot of malarkey. . . .

"We have never had it so good as we have under Eisenhower" Bender went on. "During almost four years, you have seen things happen. We can go on any public conveyance in Washington. To me, every man is equal."

At one point Lausche referred to an announced one-half-million-dollar goal set by the Ohio Republican Senatorial Finance Committee. There is no $500,000 in my coffers," he said. "There is $7,000, and none from real estate operators."

"They gave none to me," Bender shot back.

Lausche said Bender was "conveniently absent" when the Senate voted on the recent housing bill. Bender replied he had supported housing measures, to which Lausche answered: "You didn't vote on the last issue and you know you didn't vote."

The two candidates then accused each other of engaging in a 'hollering" contest.

Lausche, as the final speaker, spoke for 20 minutes, four more than Bender. He said that as former mayor of Cleveland he broke the barrier to have Negroes admitted into employment. . .

'Look into the departments of state. Wherever you go, you will find a fair share of Negroes," Lausche said.

The governor also reiterated previous assertion that "I am a Democrat second and an American first. I will never hesitate to cross party lines when I believe it will serve my country best."

C. William O'Neill, Republican candidate for governor, said in an interview at Springfield he feels the state should encourage the free enterprise system as much as possible regarding the operation of resorts and state parks.

"I am thoroughly familiar with the leasing policy of the present department," O'Neill said. "I disagree with it, and (if elected) I propose to change it and give cooperation to the resort owners."

Resort owners at both Indian Lake and Grand Lake (Lake St. Marys) have complained about alleged difficulties in getting leases renewed. They claim this hampers them in making long-range improvements in their facilities.

Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor, told an audience of Miami University students that, if elected, he would not feel bound to follow policies of the present Democratic state administration.

In answer to a student's question, DiSalle said:

"I would follow the policies of the present administration where I feel they are good, but I would not feel bound to precedent. There are fields in which I feel we should be moving faster."

DiSalle said examples of where faster action is needed are the state mental health and educations programs.

In Columbus, the Tennessee commissioner of agriculture told an audience of Ohio farmers that the "Eisenhower-Nixon-Benson" combination "was the greatest promise-busting crowd in the history of American politics."

Commissioner Budford Ellington, in a speech at a Democratic farm family rally at the Ohio State Fairgrounds, said Republicans "are trying to fool you (the farmers) with the soil bank" and that the GOP was "too busy doing something for big business and big industry."

DIED IN 79 A.D.—Engulfed by clouds of flaming volcanic ash 1,877 years ago, the calcified body of this man lies where he fell when the city of Pompeii was destroyed by an eruption of Italy's Mount Vesuvius in 79 A.D. This remarkably preserved body is one of the latest finds of archeologists, whose painstaking work over scores of years has uncovered an almost perfect record of an ancient civilization.

Ike's Health, Segregation Big Factors In Florida Voting

(Editor's note: This is another in a series of articles by AP's political reporters who are surveying sentiment in key states across the country.)

By HENDRIX CHANDLER

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —The Presidential race in Florida appears so close that a strong political wind the week before election could blow it either way.

More voters than usual seem to be o the fence at this late date. But the real enigma in the picture is the big mass of some 200,000 new voters registered since 1952.

They are part of the big influx of newcomers, many of them from the Midwest and East, who are helping to make Florida one of the nation's fastest growing states. Others are natives who have just reached voting age.

Harold Ballew, managing editor of the St. Petersburg Independent in Republican - conscious Pinellas County, sees in the newcomers a largely Republican group he predicts will help keep Florida in the Eisenhower column.

But over in Putnam County, a normally Democratic county in northeast Florida which went for President Eisenhower by a slim 250 votes in 1952, you can get a different interpretation.

State Sen. B. C. Pearce of Palatka, Democrat, said that enough industrial workers with Democratic leanings have moved into that county within the past four years to tilt it to Adlai Stevenson.

The labor vote, while growing, hasn't yet developed into the statewide force it is in some of the more industrialized areas.

And the farm issue isn't too much of a factor in Florida. Florida's big crops — citrus, cattle and vegetables — get no subsidies and there has been no big clamor for them. The subsidy crops are grown in the traditionally democratic northern tier of counties.

Florida gave its 10 electoral votes to Eisenhower in 1952. He carried the state by 99,086 votes over Stevenson and got 55 per cent of the total vote.

The biggest factors in the Florida picture appear to be the state of Eisenhower's health and segregation, and these are contributing to some of the fence-sitting by voters.

Any substantial development on either the health or the segregation front between now and election time could be the weight that would upset the present balance.

Plans New Statements On H-Bomb Tests

Stevenson On Flying Campaign In California

OAKLAND Calif. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson who accuses President Eisenhower of "inaction" and "deception" led five Democrats today on a flying campaign through California.

"We have had enough of inaction and self-advertising" he said.

He contended that "when we lose ground abroad, we are assured that all is well" and he added: "I don't think" the public likes "to be told by Mr. Dulles and President Eisenhower that American prestige 'has never been higher' when it is manifestly untrue."

More On H-Bomb Tests

Stevenson also declared he would have more to say, probably Monday, about his proposals for ending hydrogen bomb tests.

After remarking that "I understand the President said x x x that he has said his last word on testing H - bombs and military manpower requirements," Stevenson said:

"Well, I haven't said mine and neither, my friends, have the people of this country who have the only last word."

Stevenson left it crystal clear that he regards his proposals for ending hydrogen bomb tests as one of the strong Democratic issues of the campaign.

"Next Monday," he said, "I expect to say more on this subject."

That, his staff said, will be in a nation-wide TV and radio address from either Chicago or his farm home at Libertyville, Ill. Negotiations are underway for a network outlet.

Stevenson's staff contends he has won widespread support from religious and educational leaders since he suggested the country "find a way" to halt the testing of the powerful H-bombs.

Eisenhower said Thursday his administration has done everything humanly possible to bring the H-bomb threat under international control and use atomic power for peaceful purposes.

Departing from his prepared text Thursday night, Stevenson told the Oakland rally: "I'll let them (the people) judge whether it is a "theatrical gesture," to quote President Eisenhower's phrase, to suggest a safe way to end the deadly competition to build and explode giant H-bombs which contaminate the very air we breathe and threaten no one knows what damage to generations yet unborn."

This last remark brought a storm of applause.

The Democratic presidential nominee made his latest attack on the GOP regime in a speech for a rally at Oakland Thursday night before he broke camp for his swing south to Fresno, Long Beach and San Diego.

With him were three governors George Leader of Pennsylvania Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and Frank G. Clement of Tennessee, and two senators—Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Albert M. Gore of Tennessee.

Their plans to "saturate" California in a bid for its critical 32 electoral votes called for them to fan out with Stevenson as he worked south, holding rallies of their own around him.

All of them but Clement, who was late in joining the group, appeared with Stevenson Thursday night on a nationwide television broadcast from San Francisco. They talked about Stevenson's proposal to give federal loans and grants to a voluntary private health insurance plan aimed at training more doctors and building more hospitals.

"In four years of this administration" Stevenson said "no real breakthrough in the battle for the people's health has been proposed."

In his Oakland speech Stevenson said voters are switching away from the GOP to the Democratic party.

Referring to a report in a recent book by Robert Donovan, New York Herald Tribune reporter, he said:

"Three years ago, we learn how even the Republican President got so disgusted with his party that he talked about forming a third party."

Stevenson said Republicans follow Eisenhower "at coat-tail distance as candidates but refuse to follow him at all as president."

He said that "after this election win or lose, the heir apparent will inherit leadership of the Republican party." He has been referring to Vice President Nixon as "the heir-apparent."

The Eisenhower administration record amounts to "much fine talk and no action" on farm, school, public resources, tax relief, living cost, civil rights and foreign policy problems, Stevenson said.

"And now we are being offered for campaign consumption a brand of Polyanna politics labeled peace, prosperity and progress," he said.

Boys Must Register On 18th Birthday

John Herman Jr., chairman of Selective Service Local Board No. 16 of Columbiana County, said today that there is a continuing responsibility for young men reaching 18 years of age to register under the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

He emphasized that each young man is required to register within five days after reaching his 18th birthday. Young men who are away from their homes at that time may go to any draft board in the area where they are situated, and register for Selective Service.

The draft board chairman called attention to the necessity of giving the proper home address because the address given will determine the local board having jurisdiction of his case at all times. He further pointed out that registrants should be able to identify their township of residence or their ward number so that their records will be properly identified.

Herman stated that failure to comply with the law could result in a punishment of not more than five years imprisonment or not more than $10,000 fine or both.

mate of damage to company property.

Kimble said Gov. Frank J. Lausche was notified of the attacks at about 11 p.m. and that the governor said he would notify the state highway patrol.

Meanwhile, in Columbus, plans were being made for union and company negotiators in the 90-day-old strike to carry their arguments to the state industrial commission.

Commission Chairman Richard W. Morse said no date has been set yet for the hearing but that it would be "soon."

Representatives of both company and union, after a meeting with Lausche, agreed Thursday to carry their stalemated negotiations on a new contract to the commission.

The governor said he and Col. George Mingle, superintendent of the state highway patrol, will continue an investigation of cable slashings in connection with the strike.

Lausche said the strike "has been longer than the public ought to endure." He said he urged federal mediators and the industrial commission to "proceed with hearings, keeping the contestants at work for the purpose of reaching a settlement."

Both sides met in Columbus with Federal Mediators Thursday but neither would comment on the meeting with the governor.

Uneasy Quiet Settles Over Kowloon Area

HONG KONG (AP) — An uneasy quiet settled today over riot-torn Kowloon and surrounding villages. Authorities kept a tight curfew clamped on Hong Kong's mainland territory where two days of frenzied rioting and factional fighting left 4 known dead.

The colony's British government also sealed Hong Kong's border with Communist China, presumably to prevent Red agents from slipping across to further inflame the atmosphere.

Acting Gov. E. B. Davis extended the curfew imposed Thursday until Saturday morning to give police a better chance to round up persons suspected of leading the riots.

Housewives in each of Kowloon's six curfew zones were allowed only two hours a day on the streets to buy provisions. Gurkha troops from Himalayan Nepal lined the streets as crowds rushed to the stores where prices already were soaring. Spotter planes hovered overhead.

Except for those hours, Kowloon was almost a dead city. Its streets were deserted, and most restaurants and all movie houses closed their doors.

Eighty of the 165 persons arrested during the rioting were brought into court and charged with rioting and unlawful assembly in a heavily guarded courtroom. They were ordered held for hearing on Tuesday.

In the first official Red reaction to the Nationalist rioting, the Peiping Peoples Daily said the Communists were watching "the situation closely" to determine whether Hong Kong security forces were able to protect the colony's Chinese residents.

The violence originated when a Hong Kong government official removed a Nationalist Chinese flag from the walls of a big refugee housing project in the Sham Po area. The largely pro-Nationalist mob directed its ire at foreigners and Communists.

Athlete

Nina had come to compete in.

Two weeks ago the British government refused a Soviet request that the case be dropped and suggested that the famous woman athlete be brought to court.

Nina wore a raincoat when she made her sudden court appearance. Temporarily, she took a seat in a room at the back of the court while the magistrate, Clyde Wilson, heard other cases.

The court room was packed and there were hundreds standing outside when today's hearing started. Miss Bolsen testified she began watching Nina when the Soviet athlete "looked all around her — looked furtively around her." She said she did not see Nina pay for the hats.

Another prosecution witness, Miss Ella Olive Hogg, a member of the store's staff, said she saw Nina put a red woolen hat up her left coat sleeve and then saw her pick up two bags with hats between them, holding them to her side while she walked away from the counter.

Nina bent forward, her face pale, as she listened attentively to the testimony, hrough an interpreter.

Wilson originally issued the warrant for the woman's arrest when she jumped her bail and failed to show up in court.

The arrest warrant was executed at the West End Central Police Station this morning and Nina was escorted to the court by detectives, including a woman policeman.

Police at first barred newsmen from entering the courtroom but later permitted a handful to enter.

Water revenue for the first nine months of this year totaled $135,935, as compared with the same period last year when the income amounted to $134,783. Collections last month totaled $13,949. The increase in revenue is attributed to new services.

Polls Show Ike Leads, But By Smaller Margin

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower is leading Adlai Stevenson in a wide variety of presidential polls, but often by a smaller margin than he did in 1952.

A compilation of polls shows that to be the general trend whether in nationwide samplings by professional public opinion experts or in regional straw ballots.

There were some exceptions to the trend.

In Vanderburgh County in Indiana, Eisenhower was reported polling 63.2 per cent compared with his actual vote of 58.5 per cent in the 1952 election.

But a poll as of Sept. 18 among farm people only by the Wallace's Farmer and Iowa Homestead, a weekly farm magazine, showed the Stevenson - Kefauver ticket leading the Eisenhower - Nixon slate 43 per cent to 35 per cent, with 22 per cent on the fence.

This was an overturn from September 1952, when the Wallace poll showed 53 per cent of the farm people favoring Eisenhower to 25 per cent for Stevenson, with 22 per cent undecided.

In some cases there were no comparative polls for 1952.

How right the pollsters are cannot be known until the Nov. 6 election returns are in.

The Eisenhower - Nixon ticket polled 55.4 per cent of the major party vote in the 1952 election.

The most recent Gallup poll, published Wednesday, held that as of Oct. 1 Eisenhower was leading Stevenson 52 to 40 per cent, with 8 per cent undecided.

On Sept. 21, four years ago, Gallup reported: Eisenhower 55 per cent; Stevenson 40 per cent, and 5 per cent undecided.

Midwest polls include:

The Minneapolis Tribune's "Minnesota Poll," conducted Sept. 19-25, gave Eisenhower-Nixon 49 per cent; refuse to say, 1 per cent; no opinion, 3 per cent.

The poll, for the comparative period in 1952, gave Eisenhower 54 per cent; Stevenson 40 per cent; refuse to say, 2 per cent, and no opinion, 4 per cent.

The poll, for the comparative period in 1952, gave Eisenhower 54 per cent; Stevenson 40 per cent; refuse to say, 2 per cent, and no opinion, 4 per cent.

The Tribune, which lists itself as independent, backed Eisenhower in 1952 but has not yet declared this year.

The Des Moines Register's "Iowa Poll" in the last week of September gave Eisenhower 46 per cent; Stevenson 36 per cent; and 18 per cent undecided. A similar poll for the same week in 1952 gave Eisenhower 48 per cent; Stevenson 27 per cent, and, undecided, 25 per cent.

The Evansville (Ind.) Press said a poll in Vanderburgh County gave Eisenhower 63.2 per cent and Stevenson 36.8 per cent.

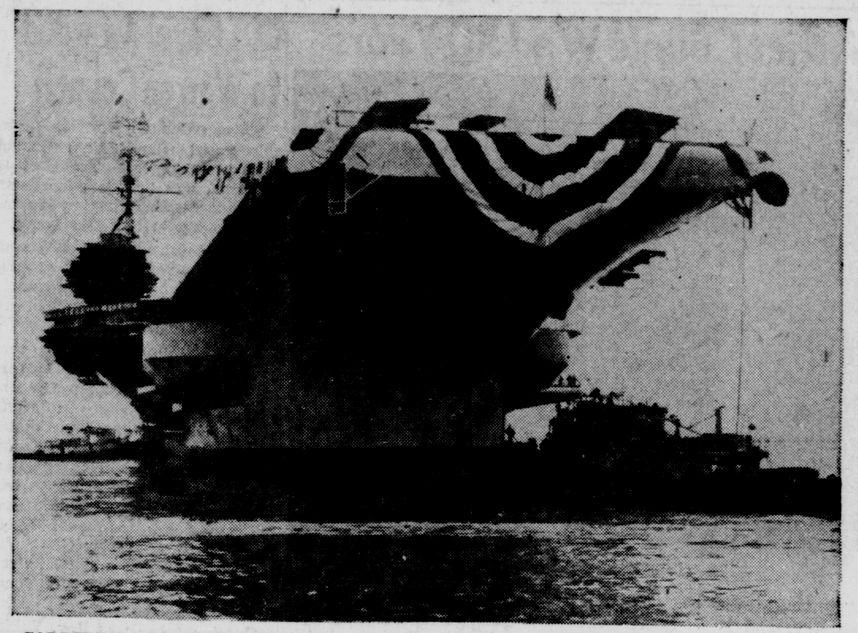

Vanderburgh County has voted for the winning candidate in every election since 1896.

In 1952, the Press estimated on its final poll returns that Eisenhower would get 52 per cent of the county votes. He got 58.5 per cent.

The Indianapolis Star, supporting Eisenhower, said a statewide spot check conducted by interviewers for Midwest Surveys Inc., as of Sept. 23, gave Eisenhower 53.2 per cent and Stevenson 42.1 per cent, with 4.7 undecided.

The Lansing (Mich) State Journal, Republican independent polled occupation groups and reported these results:

Among state employes — Eisenhower 215, Stevenson 75, or 3-1; among factory workers — Stevenson 307, Eisenhower 253, or 6-5; among business and professional people — Eisenhower 306, Stevenson 12, or 31-1.

GREAT DANE LIKES IKE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A great dane has been doing some politicking against his master.

The dog, Hamlet by name, belongs to Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate. He wanders around Chestnut Hill, exclusive Philadelphia residential section, quite a bit. The other day he came home from his meanderings with an "I Like Ike" button pinned to his collar.

A Star's Desire

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Pigs are not open-minded — they're sneaky," said Siobhan McKenna, positively, "and I won't have them on my farm.

"But I love cows. They have such beautiful long eyelashes."

The farm that Miss McKenna, brightest star of the current drama season, spoke of was the one she dreams of owning and retiring to some future day in her native Ireland. After, of course, she achieves another dream — to play Hamlet. No, not Ophelia. Hamlet! And she'll probably get her wish.

Every now and then an actress comes along who can scratch a match in your veins and set your brain and heart aflame. For several weeks Young Miss McKenna has beeen doing just that to audiences in the off - Broadway Phoenix Theater with her electric portrayal of the tomboy saint in Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan."

Critics have acclaimed her the "greatest Joan of the century." And, indeed, who before her ever played Joan in Gaelic in Dublin . . . in English in London. . . with an Irish accent in Manhattan . . . and planned to do it in French in Paris?

What is Siobhan (pronounced "shh-vawn") like offstage? Well, she is so busy — almost every day a new Hollywood producer suddenly "discovers" her — that seeing her alone is only slightly less difficult than it would be to arrange a private game of crabgrass billiards with President Eisenhower.

Finally I arranged a luncheon date. It came during a break in a seven-hour rehearsal of an Oct. 15th NBC - TV presentation of Somerset Maugham's "The Letter," in which Miss McKenna portrays a cool - blooded murderess.

I noted that she seemed to be 5 feet 5 and 125 pounds of talent held together largely by freckles.

"I'm afraid that no one in the theater except Katie Hepburn has more than I do," she said ruefully. "In Gaelic freckles are called 'little trout,' and Irish girls who have them console themselves by saying they are signs of beauty.

"But as a child I used to try to scrub them off with buttermilk."

Siobham, daughter of a Galway University mathematics professor is a graduate mathematician herself and has a sister who is a dentist.

Her Irish flares up when anyone questions her desire to play Hamlet. After all, didn't Sarah Bernhardt?

"And why shouldn't a woman be Hamlet?" she asked. "He is, like Joan, an extraordinary figure. But Hamlet's problem is intellectual, rather than physical, so why should there be any great shock about having a woman play him?"

Find No Trace Of Plane Missing With 59 Aboard

ROUTE OF MISSING PLANE—Newsmap charts the projected route of a U.S. Air Force C-118 with 59 aboard for which a massive air-sea search is under way. The plane, long overdue and unheard from, was en route from Lakenheath, England, to the United States by way of the Azores. Fifty of the 59 persons aboard the plane are personnel from the Lincoln (Neb.) Air Force Base. The men had been in England for a three-month maneuver exercise. Four are Ohioans.

Signals Spur Search For U.S. Transport

4 Ohioans Among Servicemen On Craft Downed Near Azores

LONDON (AP) — Distress signals spurred a gigantic search today for a U. S. transport plane missing with 59 servicemen aboard. There was not a hint of success.

At least 80 planes from bases in a half dozen countries—including giant six-engine U. S. Stratojet bombers—an aircraft carrier and destroyers scoured the area north of the Azores in an effort to pin down the source of the messages.

"No Luck. Nothing Sighted"

But back to base came these reports from the searcher: "No luck. Nothing sighted."

The missing plane, a C118 Liftmaster of the U. S. Military Air Transport Service, was due at Lajes air base on the Azores, Thursday morning. It carried Air Force personnel returning to the United States from duty in Britain and a Navy flight crew.

After a long silence a string of SOS signals were picked up by commercial airliners flying early today between Britain and New York, belief was expressed the distress calls might be coming from portable transmitters on rubber life rafts carried by the missing aircraft.

But in New York, three transatlantic pilots who heard the distress signals said they were later informed the calls came from land stations sending out alerts about the plane.

The Air Force estimated the signals were coming from a point approximately 150 miles north of the Azores.

The transport vanished Wednesday night on a flight from the air base at Lakenheath, England, to the Azores, en route to the United States. Aboard were 50 Air Force men returning to their Lincoln, Neb., base and the transport's crew of nine Navy men.

The position from which it was estimated the SOS signals came was more than 800 miles beyond the missing plane's last position report. But an Air Force spokesman said the aircraft could have lost radio contact with the ocean control tower at Shannon Airport in Ireland and flown on toward its destination before going down.

"We would be surprised to find it to close to the Azores but it's possible," the spokesman added.

The Liftmaster carried four life rafts, each equipped with a portable transmitter and having room for 20 men.

The Air Force spokesman described the SOS's as "standard distress signals."

"They weren't signed and we

Britain, Egypt Make Conciliatory Moves

France May Quit Suez Canal Talks

UNITED NATIONS N.Y. (AP) — Both Egypt and Britain were reported unofficially today to have made conciliatory moves in private talks on the Suez Canal dispute. But France seemed on the point of breaking off the discussions.

The British French and Egyptian foreign ministers hold their fifth private meeting today on the canal crisis with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, president of the U.N. Security Council, said that 11-nation body would hold a private session on the canal controversy later today and perhaps a public session Saturday.

A usually well informed diplomat said that in the talks so far Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahhoud Fawzi had agreed Egypt would cooperate in some respects with the Suez Canal Users' Assn. (SCUA) set up by the second London Suez conference.

Britain Mellows Demands

The same diplomat who asked not to be identified, said British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd had dropped Britain's insistence on international operation of the canal and had agreed to Egyptian operation provided international safeguards were set up to guarantee freedom of navigation through the waterway necessary improvements and reasonable tolls. tolls.

Another source claiming to be familiar with the British position said they were willing for Egypt to hire the canal pilots and collect the tolls provided SCUA made up the canal convoys and assigned the pilots to individual ships, and if the tolls were fixed in accordance with an international treaty Egypt would sign.

Of this report, a British spokesman would say only, "Bits of it are wrong — but I'm not going to tell you which bits."

Pineau said the talks sponsored by Hammarskjold had "not yet" made any progress and that he was leaving for Paris Saturday afternoon.

A British spokesman denied re-

Soviet Athlete Is Convicted

'Missing Nina' Appears On Shoplifting Charge

LONDON (AP) — Nina Ponomareva, Soviet olympic discus champion, was convicted today of shoplifting five cheap hats from a London department store but was given an absolute discharge on payment of three guineas ($8.82) costs.

The verdict was handed down by Magistrate Clyde Wilson where the famous athlete made a surprise appearance to answer the charges.

She took the stand for 55 minutes and flatly denied stealing the hats. "I bought them," she said. She had pleaded innocent to the charge.

Nina had been missing since Aug. 30 — when she originally was due to appear in court. A warrant was issued for her arrest when she failed to appear. She is believed to have taken refuge in the Soviet Embassy, which has diplomatic immunity.

Th hefty 27-year-old Russian athlete entered her plea after the store detective who arrested her had testified.

Nina's counsel sought to show that Nina bought the five hats—worh less than $5.—and had them placed in a shopping bag from another store from which she had purchased two berets. The store detective, Miss Margaret Bolsen, insisted Nina had not paid for the hats in the C. and A. Modes department.

The hats were produced in court.

Nina was arrested Aug. 29 on the shoplifting charge. The Russians immediately charged the British with a "dirty provocation" and withdrew their team from a British-Soviet track meet

President To Hold Televised Press Conference

Democratic Leader's Support Pleases Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, pictured as highly pleased by support from a Negro Democrat in Congress, makes another nationwide bid for votes on television and radio tonight.

This latest appeal will be in a novel form. White House news secretary James C. Hagerty describes it as an "impromptu, entirely unrehearsed press conference" where about 100 "cross-section Americans" will put questions to Eisenhower on various issues.

Broadcast time is 9 p.m. EDT, over NBC.

The panelists to take part have been invited to Washington from all areas of the country by the National Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, an organization whose primary objective is to woo the votes of independents and dissatisfied Democrats.

"I think the President probably has never met more than one or two of the 100 or so people who will be questioning him, and we won't know in advance what they are going to ask," Hagerty said.

As Eisenhower awaited the quiz, an aide described him as highly pleased by the announced decision of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., New York Negro Democrat, to support him and to form a national organization to work for his re-electin.

Powell, who backed Democrat Adlai Stevenson for the presidency in 1952, said after conferring with Eisenhower that Stevenson this year has "snubbed the whole liberal group—Republicans and Democrats" on the civil rights issue.

On the other hand, Powell said, during the administration's first two years in office Eisenhower made "the greatest contribution in the field of civil liberties of any president in history."

Meanwhile, Republican Sen. Jenner (Ind) said Eisenhower was "accurate" in telling a news conference Thursday that Jenner and GOP Senators McCarthy (Wis) and Malone (Nev) do not agree with him in many things. The President added, "I can't look . . . to them for help" in trying to put over a legislative program "for the good of the country."

Eisenhower's comment was based on a magazine article by Paul Hoffman, former foreign aid administrator, who wrote that the three "have no place in the new Republican party." None of the three is up for re-election this year.

Jenner said that he and the two other senators "are Republicans who do not go along with him (Eisenhower) on some things," and added:

"I support the President when I think he is right and I don't when I think he is wrong."

In Reno, Nev., Malone said he disagrees with Eisenhower on

245 Attend Annual Banquet Thursday

Recognition Is Given To 4-H Club Advisors

Two hundred and forty-five persons attended the 4-H advisors recognition banquet held at Lisbon Methodist Church Thursday evening.

John Mount, assistant dean and secretary of the College of Agriculture at Ohio State University, was the main speaker.

He pointed out that all 4-H members received five traits by being members of 4-H clubs, they became leaders, they become optimists, they understand the other person, they have faith in their leaders and in God, and are committed to whatever they do.

Mr. Mount complimented the advisors for their volunteer work for helping to develop the boys and girls by their tireless efforts. He declared that the world is full of spectators and it needed men and women who will do things.

He tried to show what the county fair would be without 4-H club participating. He stressed the importance in furthering the education of 4-H members and said his experience showed him that students who belong to 4-H clubs oriented themselves better than students who had no 4-H club training.

Trucks Burned In Phone Strike

500 In Portsmouth Stage Demonstration

PORTSMOUTH Ohio (AP)—Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. tied up in a lengthy and violence-marked strike said a crowd of "about 500 persons" demonstrated against company installations in this southern Ohio city Thursday night. The company said six trucks were burned.

Police Chief Hugh Rudity said one company truck was burned and windows were broken in a two-story brick building housing the company's automatic exchange in the heart of Portsmouth.

The chief said he did not have a full report available.

"I was called out about midnigrt," Rudity said. "Williams (Clare E. Willams, president of Ohio Consolidated) called me from Marion, but by the time I got out there it was pretty well cleared up."

Rudity said he was unable to confirm the number of demonstrators, adding that "the company always exaggerates those things."

One company official called the demonstrations a "full scale riot."

The striking Communications Workers of America has consistently denied responsibility for any violence in the strike.

Union comment on last night's demonstrations was not immediately available.

Ed Kimble, a company official, said the demonstrations began about 9 p.m. when a crowd began to gather in front of the Scioto County jail, where 10 strikers previously had been locked up for violating a court order restricting picketing.

The demonstrators burned bonfires, but otherwise created little disturbance in front of the jail, Kimble said.

But, Kimble added, the crowd moved on to the Portsmouth automatic exchange where they overturned and burned a company auto parked outside and smashed windows and broke in the locked front doors of the exchange.

Then the company's main office in Portsmouth was stoned and many windows broken, Kimble said. Six company trucks and an auto in an adjacent parking lot were burned, he said.

The crowd later gathered at a motel where some 30 to 35 company supervisors are staying. Kimble said motel windows were broken but that no one was injured.

The crowd moved next to the company's exchange in nearby Sciotoville where there was another demonstration and more windows smashed.

Strip Mine 'Black Damp' Kills 2 Men

NELSONVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Two men died and three others were overcome by "black damp" today in a mine accident six miles southeast of here.

The accident took place at a strip mine which had been converted into an "auger" mine—one in which a hole is bored into the side of a hill by a giant brace and steel bit to bring out "low" coal which otherwise cannot be mined.

Officials at the scene reported two men went into the 30-inch hole to check tools. They were hit by "black damp" or "choke damp," a non-explosive but suffocating gas found in mines and consisting mostly of carbon dioxide.

Paul Schorniak, about 45, of Buchtel, and Lawrence Newsom, about 35, of Murray City, were the miners killed.

Eldridge Hanning, 35, of Oak Grove, near Nelsonville, was brought to Mount St. Mary Hospital here for emergency treatment. He was unconscious when pulled from the hole. Also overcome, but revived at the scene were Thomas Riley, 33, of Nelsonville, and Bill Stephenson, 45, of Glouster, both of whom entered the hole to rescue the other three men.

"I ran to the hole," Riley told newsmen, "tied a line about my waist and started into the hole. I just stuck my head in there and the next thing I knew I was out."

Riley was pulled out with the rope about his waist. Stephenson, right behind Riley, was knocked out by the "black damp" when he approached the mouth of the hole.

Miners reported that Schorniak apparently crawled into the hole in the first place to unfoul some boring equipment. They believed that when Schorniak was overcome, Newsom climbed in to rescue him and was also overcome.

Hanning then followed the two

Francis Wick Fines Totaling $2,300 Paid

The clerk of courts office in Lisbon has received two checks in payment of fines imposed last December on Francis Wick, 47, former Salem industrialist.

Judge Joel H. Sharp had found Wick guilty of furnishing minors with intoxicating liquor, and possession of obscene photographs. Wick was fined $300 and $2,000, respectively, on the two counts.

He also received a penitentiary sentence and is now serving 1 to 20 years for sodomy and 1 to 7 years for possession of obscene photographs. The sentences are running consecutively.

Warren Juveniles Escape Detention, Are Finally Caught

Weary sheriff's deputies and state highway patrolmen in the area caught up on their sleep this morning after a successful all-night search last night for six juveniles who escaped from a detention home in Warren and got as far as Carrollton.

Sheriff's deputies in Columbiana and Mahoning counties, along with the Carrollton police and State Patrol 79, conducted the search for the youths, between 13 and 16 years of age, who had stolen a car in Warren to make their getaway.

In Kensington, one of earlier-captured youths revealed, the sextet broke into a custard stand and took cigarettes, cigars and some food. When they were spotted by police in Carrollton, the juveniles abandoned the car and continued their escape on foot. Columbiana County officials received the first call at 1 a.m.

Police kept the escapees within a four block area during the six-hour search.

In ones and twos the group was finally captured until the last person was caught at 7:05 a.m. today.

Officers took the juveniles back to Warren after they were cited on a breaking and entering charge.

SENATE SEAT BATTLE—Newschart above shows number of Senate seats held by the two major political parties from 1934 to the present. Democrats' biggest year was in 1936 when they captured 75 out of a possible 96 seats. In 1952 the GOP won but in 1954 the Democrats won the right to organize the Senate when Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, elected as a Republican, switched allegiance to the Democratic party. Political observers believe the Democrats will retain control of the Senate because there are more GOP states where success is problematical.

Waits In Vain For Son On Lost Plane

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Airplanes, airplanes, that's all he ever talked about. And now this."

A heartbroken mother of one of four Ohioans aboard a missing military transport choked out those words here Thursday night after her hopes of a reunion turned to despair.

Like the families of the other three men, Mrs. Evelyn Lipina had been looking forward to the plane's arrival from England.

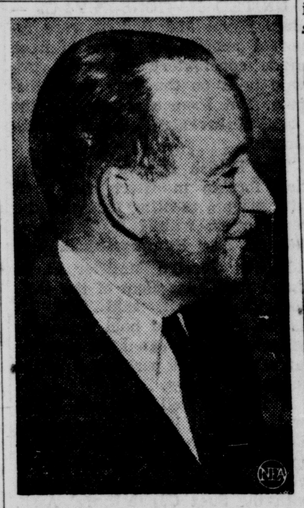

The plane never arrived. It was due at Lajes in the Azores early Thursday and is presumed to have gone down somewhere in the eastearn Atlantic.

Mrs. Lupina's son, A.3.C. Robert Lipina, 18, was among 50 Air Force men returning to the United States after a three-month training mission in England. He had written his mother that he wanted to get home soon so they could attend a cousin's wedding.

Another passenger on the plane was A.2.C. John F. DiSanto, 21, of Euclid. His dad Thursday night recalled that DiSanto's last trip home was last June "and we sure had a good visit then."

The third Ohio Air Force man on the plane was A.2.C. Conrad J. Buehler, 20, of Waterville, son of a Lutheran minister. Hours after the plane was reported missing, his mother said, "we still haven't given up hope."

Lt. Cmdr. Fred Burton Lowe, was one of the Navy crew members of the plane. His wife lives in Levittown, Pa., and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Orville R. Lowe of near Delaware, Ohio.

ENVOY TO HUNGARY — Edward T. Wailes is the new United States minister to Hungary. The long-time foreign service officer's career dates back to 1930, when he was U.S. vice consul in Shanghai, China.

Gas Pipeline Project Underway In District

Work is under way on a $150,000 two-part pipeline construction project near Minerva that will enable the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia to deliver greater volumes of natural gas to four communities, it was announced today.

B. W. Box, Salem manager for the gas company, said the project will improve natural gas service to Minerva, East Rochester, Hanoverton, and Kensington.

Almost four miles of pipe— 12¾ inches in diameter—will be laid, Cox said. One section will extend a mile east from the northwest edge of Minerva. The other section will extend three miles east from East Rochester. The new lines will replace sections of an existing 8⅝ inch line.

B. F. Gundelfinger, Incporated, of Columbus is building the new piplines for the gas company. Work is expected to be completed in two weeks.

Delivery of greater volumes of natural gas by the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia, a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas System, is possible because of Columbia's vast supply of gas from Louisiana and the Southwest, Cox said.

Place Air Marker Atop Parker Chevrolet Garage

The Ohio Aviation Board recently completed the installation of air markers in some 100 Ohio town and cities.

In Salem, a marker was placed atop the Parker Chevrolet building on W. State St. Markers also were placed atop the Damascus Lumber Company building in Damascus and the General Store in North Benton.

An air marker is a community identification sign used by pilots in the same way as motorists use highway signs.

Down To Cases

Sam Rayburn and Joe Martin, perennial legislative leaders of the Democrats and Republicans in the U.S. House of Representatives, have come closer to the issue of the 1956 presidential election in the Saturday Evening Post than all the other party spokesmen in the campaign.

The issue is the government of the United States under the two-party system. Speaker Rayburn has pointed out that his party is geared to the aspirations of minority groups. It is, in fact, a coalition of minorities.

Former Speaker Martin has this to say about the Republican party:

"The Republican party under Eisenhower has become the only modern party on the political scene today, the one school of thought geared to the needs and desires of mid-century Americans instead of the political cliches of an earlier and less happy era, the only party that speaks for the national interest and represents all the people."

This has been President Eisenhower's goal. This is why he accepted the Republican nomination for president in 1952, after he had been offered the Democratic nomination four years earlier.

This is why he has spoken often and feelingly about his sense of duty to the Republican party. It is why he consented to seek a second term as its presidential nominee.

He has lent his personal popularity to the strengthening of party government, weakened seriously during the years when the Democratic coalition under Presidents Roosevelt and Truman dominated national politics, to the extent that the Republican party was threatened with extinction.

He believes there is a place in America for a party which aims to govern in behalf of all the people, instead of in behalf of powerful minorities. He has convinced the oldest and ablest of the party's legislative leaders that this can be and is being done.

Campaign oratory and recriminations aside, that is the issue in the 1956 election—whether the Eisenhower idea of party government will be approved, or whether there is to be a return to a coalition of minorities—of "clearing everything with Sidney."

Travel Expense

A Michigan congressman, Rep. Jerry Ford, is proposing a tax change that makes sense to millions of workers who drive automobiles to and from their jobs.

They never have been able to see any logic in letting salesmen who use automobiles to help them make a living deduct automobile costs from taxable income while workers who must drive back and forth to work are allowed no exemption.

Rep. Ford contends the ever-widening dispersal of factory sites, causing more workers to drive longer distances, has had a tangible effect on workers' living costs. Certainly if there is logic in letting an employe deduct union dues from his taxable income, there is logic in letting him deduct at least part of the cost of going to and from his job.

The rub is that income tax regulations are not geared to logic, or even to equity, but to practice. It never was logical or equitable to deny a working mother the privilege of deducting the cost of caring for her children from her taxable income, when business enterprise could deduct the cost of entertaining prospective customers in bars and eateries. But it continued to be done until belatedly, the clamor for a fairer rule gave the working mothers a break.

Rep. Ford's proposal has a long, hard trail ahead of it.

Who Will Be Protected?

Ohio newspapers are sending up a "Hey, Rube!" over a hearing by the State Board of Optometry on Oct. 13.

"Hey, Rube!" was the rallying cry for circus people when trouble-makers showed up. In this case, it is the rallying cry for Ohioans who are on the alert for abuses of public authority.

The State Board of Optometry, on the excuse that it wants to protect the public, has proposed regulations that would give it life-and-death power over optometrists. One of the proposals is to make it the censor of their advertising, with the right to control its nature and volume.

Protecting the public is the standard excuse used when the real motive is to eliminate competition. As for protecting the public by strangling advertising, newspapers have heard this one before — and they reject it as bad faith. They reject it, moreover, as an unlawful abuse of public power.

It is inherent in the practice of American government that no legislative body or group exercising delegated power may make rules abridging the freedom of the press guaranteed to all the people, including those who may want to read advertisements for eyeglasses.

"Good Or Bad Times" Decide Elections

WASHINGTON — What do 60,000,000 voters think about when they decide how to vote in a presidential election? From what they say to friends and neighbors before they vote, and from what the party workers, the precinct captains and the political managers learn in campaign canvasses from house to house, there is a common denominator which, in one form or another, runs through all the comments. It is whether times are good or times are bad. Political managers privately concede this point. Candidates may be popular and able but, if times are bad, the personality of a mental genius or a spellbinder doesn't win an election. Conversely, if the candidate has made a good record and there is no urge to change things or to take the risks of a change, the party in power usually wins.

Lawrence

In the present election campaign the most striking thing is the contrast between what the candidaes are emphasizing in heir speechts—their debate on heavy subjects—and what the people are talking about among themselves, which is mainly the elemental things of life.

It may seem surprising, but the vice-presidency isn't the issue that so many observers thought it would be a few months back.

This correspondent tried a little experiment of his own during a weekend in New York City—asking taxicab drivers, waiters in restaurants, elevator operators and other persons in casual conversations to say who is running for vice president on the Democratic ticket.

For every one who knows, there are ten who don't. As for the Republican ticket, Nixon is a little better known but seven out of ten don' even know the name of the Republican vice-presidential nominee. Try it out yourself—you may not get the same percentages, but you will be surprised at the numbr who say, "I don't know."

-:-

THE MATTER of a name being well known and well-advertised long in advance is basic in political campaigns. In 1952 Stevenson was relatively unknown and, while he has had a lot of publicity since, he still is not as widely known as President Eisenhower is today after three and a-half years in the White House.

But, while the people get to know something about the personality of a president, they are far more familiar with the historic names, "Republican" and "Democrat."

It was the depression of the 1930's which sent a lot of Republicans over to the Democratic party, and many have stayed in it since. When talk is heard about "revitalizing" the Republican party, on the theory that it is "obsolete" and needs new leadership, such comments are reminiscent of what the Democrats used to say about themselves in the 1920's.

But the Democratic party—split wide open through its southern conservative wing—hasn't been "revitalized" in the last 10 years. As for its "leadership," it has none to boast about. Yet it has succeeded in winning converts since 1952 because the economic well-being of many voters was affected by the recession in 1954, especially in the farm belt.

Today, the Republican party is probably stronger in many areas than most observers are willing to concede. The fashion is to say the Republican party isn't as strong as is President Eisenhower and that the congressional outlook for the Republicans is unfavorable.

But what is overlooked is that for the last several decades the vote for Congress has always run behind the vote for the top of the ticket in every election, irrespective of party, except once. This was in November 1948, when the Democratic candidates for Congress generally ran ahead of President Truman.

People don't always vote for members of Congress when they vote for president because it's a separate ballot and many at the polls don't know a thing about either congressional candidate, so they don't vote for any one on that ballot. In Ohio in 1948, for example, of those who voted for president 91,000 did not vote for any congressional candidate.

THE POSSIBLE LOSS of Republican seats this year, again due to the farm recession, makes the Congress outlook doubtful for the Republicans in certain areas, but it isn't because of anything intrinsically wrong with the Republican party, or something intrinsically beneficial about the Democratic party. It is simple the workings of the oldest factor in American politics—whether times are good or bad.

Ike can win in the nation as a whole if the sum total of the areas where times are good in larger than those where times are not so good. That's because, in individual statewide elections, it's the total vote of a state that counts for the electoral college, whereas many House seats can go either way depending on the economic situation in the individual district.

It's in the Senate that Statewide votes in some of the admittedly doubtful states will hurt the Republicans.

Are times good or bad, and where?

The Republican party will win wherever the economic status is good and will lose where the people are discontented either because of lowered incomes or unemployment.

Emotional issues will play a part, as they always have—as, for instance, "Communism, Corruption and Korea" in 1952.

This time it's "peace"—whether a change in administration and a new commander-in-chief is a risk worth taking or whether the voter prefers to let things go on as they are. That's the crux of the campaign this year.

There is nothing as yet visible on the horizon to alter the historic pattern of behavior by the electorate.

Heads You Lose, Mister

Business, Labor And Politics

By MARTIN ARUNDEL

This election is turning into a slugging match between organized business and organized labor. Both are in the campaign up to their eyes.

Though no national business group has endorsed any candidates, businessmen generally are electioneering for Republicans.

The AFL-CIO endorsed the Democratic presidential ticket, and union bigwigs are, with rare exceptions, campaigning for Democrats.

As the campaign enters the home stretch, attacks of business tycoons and union bosses on one another's political activities get more caustic daily. Neither side has yet accused the other of trying to foment class warfare a la Karl Marx, but both have come close.

"The proclaimed political ambition of union leadership, if successful, means an end to truly representative government in the U.S.," says Cola G. Parker, president of National Association of Manufacturers.

He alleges that "today's labor leadership" seeks "not only to extend but to perpetuate its economic and political power," and that "so-called 'labor leaders,' in their political activites, are not leading anything or anybody but their own cliques bent on personal, political and economic power-grabs."

-:-

A CAMPAIGN PAMPHLET circulated among N.A.M. member companies details what it calls "organized labor's program to organize the legislative halls."

It charges union bigshots with being prepared to:

"1. Pour money and manpower into the election drive at a rate that will make previous efforts appear strictly bush-league.

2. Woo the votes of non-union (particularly in the farm areas) as well as union employes through the pocketbook approach—extravagant promises of lower taxes, higher basic wages, greater social security and larger unemployment and workmen's compensation payments.

"3. Concede elections — even the presidency—where the outlook for success is cloudy and concentrate funds and effort on super ground in vital congressional and state legislative races.

"4. Make deals with political bosses on candidates and vote-swaps.

"5. Take over weak political organizations at state as well as local levels.

"6. Infiltrate the strong party machines.

"7. Organize election workers in all of the nation's 140,000 voting precincts.

"8. Divert to political activity the services of more than 50,000 full-time paid union offcers—men and women well versed in and capable of applying to electioneering the same tactics which are frequently used in industrial disputes to vilify employers, imtimidate workers and confuse the public..

9. Refrain from public endorsements, but carry out undercover activities for candidates in areas where the union label would be a kiss-of-death.

"10. Turn more than 1,000 union newspapers, with circulations in the millions, into outright voltage of its two regular natonwide network broadcasts as well as union controlled sectional radio and TV programs.

"12. Circumvent legal restrictions on political contributions by various ingenous devices."

-:-

UNION POLITICIANS retort, n effect, "so what?" they accuse businessmen of dominating the Republican party, charging that the "Eisenhower administration is the captive of big busness."

They promise to step up their electioneering for Democratic candidates in the campaign's closing days.

The N.A.M. pamphlet warns that corporations are prohibited by federal law and laws of the 48 states from making financial donations to political parties. But it suggests that individual businessmen can contribute money to any number of political committees, providing donations do not exceed $3,000 each.

The phamphlet also urges business management to see that employes register and vote; to discuss broad political issues in company publications; to permit political candidates to tour plants and business establishments; and to encourage members of management staff to engage in practical politics.

Business groups in several states and cities are reported to be responding with vigor.

Factory Payrolls Gain

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The young man who will be looking for a job one of these days might do worse than consider some of the manufacturing industries. Average annual earnings have been going up steadily in recent years.

And now in at least four industries the average yearly take for a full-time employe tops $5,000. Four others are so close that this summer's round of wage increases might put them over that mark next year. The more highly skilled in these industries make considerable more than the average.

In the last eight years the annual earnings of workers in three manufacturing industries increased by more than two thirds, while the increase in the cost of living between the average figure for 1947 and the average for 1955 went up only one fifth.

Gains in the amount of capital invested per employe and average annual earnings per employe in 20 manufacturing industries are reported today by the New York Stock Exchanke in the October issue of its magazine The Exchange. In both fields all 20 show increases.

The U. S. Labor Department adds to the picture by reporting steady gains of around 3 per cent a year in productivity, which is the output of a worker for an hour's work. In the steel industry the department reports productivity jumped 1 per cent last year alone.

The exchange study shows that the petroleum & coal products industry leads in both capital and annual earnings per employe. Its average capital investment per full time employe in 1955 was $102,138 — a gain of $51,226, or 99 per cent, since 1947. Annual earnings of the workers averaged $5,593 an advance of $1,983 or 55 per cent in the eight years.

Earnings should rise further, since the oil workers got a 15 cent an hour rise early this year and the coal miners have just won a $2 a day boost in two steps by April.

Other industries in which annual pay tops $5,000 are: motor vehicles and equipment, primary metals, and transportation equipment. Those topping $4,000 include: chemicals, paper, rubber, electrical equipment, machinery, stone clay & glass fabricated equipment, instruments, printing & publishing.

The lowest of the 20 in annual earnings was apparel & fabric products — $2,851, up only $542, or 23 per cent, since 1947.

"I hate to bring it up, Mr. Grimsby, but since I married the head bookkeeper he insists that I'm underpaid!"

The Non-Voters

Political seers, party workers, and others interested in the election will find value in estimates just issued by the U.S. Census Bureau.

These cover the "estimated civilian population of voting age" for 1952 and 1956 in the states and the of voting age who participated in District of Columbia the number and percentage of the population of voting age who participated in the election of 1952.

The old deplorable news is projected by these figures: A large number of Americans do not make use of their right to vote.

In 1952 there was a record turnout, but only 62.7 per cent of those qualified by age voted. To put it another way, 37.3 per cent or 36,603,609 of those of voting age failed to appear.

But the Census Bureau gives us only the number of persons "of voting age." It has never, for reasons which will be obvious, made a firm estimate of voters actually eligible. There are many factors other than age which disqualify people from voting.

There are aliens, estimated this year at 2,500,000. There are persons of voting age in correctional or mental institutions, estimated at 1,750,000. There are nonvoting residents of the District of Columbia. There are people in poll-tax states who have not qualified. There are those who have lost their right to vote because of lack of residence requirements. These ineligibles may total 5,000,000.

The estimated number of civilians of voting are is given by the Census Bureau at 102,743,000. To that should be added 2,100,000 of voting age in the Armed Forces. That makes a total of 104,843,000. From that we subtract an estimated 5,000,000 ineligibles, which gives us 99,843,000 who could vote if they wish.

By approximately the same method of computation I have used for 1956, the number eligible in 1952 was found to be approximately 93,466,000. Thus, in 1952, there were 61,552,000 voters, or 66 per cent. Nonvoters were 31,914,000 or approximately 34 per cent.

A large percentage of the nonvoters were in the 11 southern states of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia. In those states the one-party system and poll-tax ineligibles made an abnormal number of stay-at-homes.

In the other 37 states, there were 75,568,000 civilians of voting age. That was 77 per cent of all American civilians of voting age. To those 75,568,000, ia have added 77 per cent of the military personnel of voting age and subtracted 3,800,000 for nonvoting inhabitants of the District of Columbia, inmates of institutions, and residential disqualifications, which leaves an estimated 73,385,000 actually qualified voters in the 37 states.

In those 37 states approximately 53,000,000 voted. That was 72.2 per cent of the eligibles.

This percentage is better than the estimates that commentators have been offering to the public as a measure of our American failure to vote.

It is not so far from the 76 per cent of eligibles in Britain who voted in 1955. It is not good, however, in comparison with the 84 per cent who voted in Britain in 1950 or the 81.2 per cent in 1951.

And it may be oetter than the new total which will be established next month in the United States.

Once Over

Home, Sweet Race Track

A famous race track is to be developed for a big housing project. This has happened around the country with several other race courses, and we wonder whether in such developments the mood of the turf doesn't linger and penetrate homes spread over the spots where mutuel windows, starting gates, paddocks and photo finishes once stood.

Is such a home haunted by turf figures?... Is the thud of hooves heard in the night, and whispers of "What does Max like?"

Suppose a man buys a bungalow on the ground once occupied by a dozen $2 windows. . .will he forever hear cries of "Three tickets on Number Seven," "Ya gave me the wrong ticket, I'm telling ya," and "Make it snappy; they're at the post"?

In a homestead standing where the stretch-run once began will there inevitably be an air of tenseness, suspense and hurry, with mother excusing late dinner with "I was carrying too much weight," and pop justifying a tardy arrival with "I couldn't find an opening when I wanted to make my move"?

-:-

WILL AN AROMA of hotdogs, hot tips and hot arguments forever hang over a housing project on a former racing oval? Shudda Haddim, the well-known horse player, thinks so. "I wouldn't buy a house there without a form sheet to give me the builder's past performances," he says "I would want a chart so I could see what the plumber did last time out and find out what was thebe st workout the electrician ever had."

"You would want handicap figures on the real estate developer?" we suggested.

"Certainly," said Shudda Haddim. "Maybe a developer ain't ready. Maybe he's been hiding his real form and never had real class anyhow. He could be just getting himself in shape. Suppose I got a hot tip that a bungalow was a good buy and somebody slipped me the dope that the builder wasn't really trying!!!!!"

We remarked that when a super building project is carried out on the site of a race track a buyer could even choose a residence and find it was a late scratch.

"Sure," said Shudda Haddim. "And don't forget that in buying a house there you would want to be sure whether it was good over a distance."

-:-

THERE IS A LOT in what Mr. Haddim says. We suppose that naming apartment houses, duplexes, etc., would be interesting. "Across-the-Board Manon," . . . "On-the-Nose Villa,"... "Long Shot Arms," etc.

One thing we are certain of. If we ever closed a deal for a bungalow on a salesman's tip "You can shoot the works on this" we would not sign a check for any payment until the sign "OFFICIAL" went up. Possible real estate ads:

Dream House, $2,250: Looks sharp and is in hands of smart operator. Coupled with Split Level.

De Luxe Bungalow, $19,999: Been prepped and may last.

Cape Codder, $24,000: Did well on coast. Undersized but can go a route.

Ranch House Special, $25,500: Covers ground and is up to hard test.

The Demi Tasse Four Roomer, $11,750: Flashy, but fades early; not at best in mud. Well bred by Log Cabin-Hut the First.

HOW ROBERT ALDA, who did so well in the musical "Guys and Dolls," got into the fast-closing serious drama "Harbor Lights" puzzles Broadway but he played a ship captain and was probably off course...

A New York lawyer hurrying for a commuter train home lost the only copy of a five-million-dollar will ... It would be ironical if somebody brushed aside by his dash through Grand Central remarked "What's all the hurry? You'd think a million dollars depended on it."

Polls Show Ike Leads, But By Smaller Margin

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower is leading Adlai Stevenson in a wide variety of presidential polls, but often by a smaller margin than he did in 1952.

A compilation of polls shows that to be the general trend whether in nationwide samplings by professional public opinion experts or in regional straw ballots.

There were some exceptions to the trend.

In Vanderburgh County in Indiana, Eisenhower was reported polling 63.2 per cent compared with his actual vote of 58.5 per cent in the 1952 election.

But a poll as of Sept. 18 among farm people only by the Wallace's Farmer and Iowa Homestead, a weekly farm magazine, showed the Stevenson - Kefauver ticket leading the Eisenhower - Nixon slate 43 per cent to 35 per cent, with 22 per cent on the fence.

This was an overturn from September 1952, when the Wallace poll showed 53 per cent of the farm people favoring Eisenhower to 25 per cent for Stevenson, with 22 per cent undecided.

In some cases there were no comparative polls for 1952.

How right the pollsters are cannot be known until the Nov. 6 election returns are in.

The Eisenhower - Nixon ticket polled 55.4 per cent of the major party vote in the 1952 election.

The most recent Gallup poll, published Wednesday, held that as of Oct. 1 Eisenhower was leading Stevenson 52 to 40 per cent, with 8 per cent undecided.

On Sept. 21, four years ago, Gallup reported: Eisenhower 55 per cent; Stevenson 40 per cent, and 5 per cent undecided.

Midwest polls include:

The Minneapolis Tribune's "Minnesota Poll," conducted Sept. 19-25, gave Eisenhower-Nixon 49 per cent; refuse to say, 1 per cent; no opinion, 3 per cent.

The poll, for the comparative period in 1952, gave Eisenhower 54 per cent; Stevenson 40 per cent; refuse to say, 2 per cent, and no opinion, 4 per cent.

The poll, for the comparative period in 1952, gave Eisenhower 54 per cent; Stevenson 40 per cent; refuse to say, 2 per cent, and no opinion, 4 per cent.

The Tribune, which lists itself as independent, backed Eisenhower in 1952 but has not yet declared this year.

The Des Moines Register's "Iowa Poll" in the last week of September gave Eisenhower 46 per cent; Stevenson 36 per cent; and 18 per cent undecided. A similar poll for the same week in 1952 gave Eisenhower 48 per cent; Stevenson 27 per cent, and, undecided, 25 per cent.

The Evansville (Ind.) Press said a poll in Vanderburgh County gave Eisenhower 63.2 per cent and Stevenson 36.8 per cent.

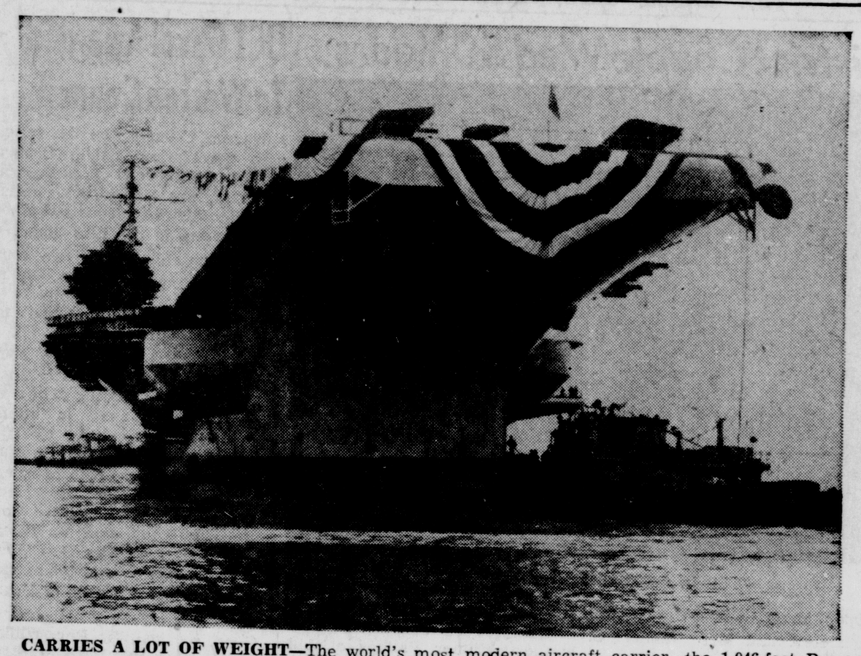

Vanderburgh County has voted for the winning candidate in every election since 1896.

In 1952, the Press estimated on its final poll returns that Eisenhower would get 52 per cent of the county votes. He got 58.5 per cent.

The Indianapolis Star, supporting Eisenhower, said a statewide spot check conducted by interviewers for Midwest Surveys Inc., as of Sept. 23, gave Eisenhower 53.2 per cent and Stevenson 42.1 per cent, with 4.7 undecided.

The Lansing (Mich) State Journal, Republican independent polled occupation groups and reported these results:

Among state employes — Eisenhower 215, Stevenson 75, or 3-1; among factory workers — Stevenson 307, Eisenhower 253, or 6-5; among business and professional people — Eisenhower 306, Stevenson 12, or 31-1.

"But I love cows. They have such beautiful long eyelashes."

The farm that Miss McKenna, brightest star of the current drama season, spoke of was the one she dreams of owning and retiring to some future day in her native Ireland. After, of course, she achieves another dream — to play Hamlet. No, not Ophelia. Hamlet! And she'll probably get her wish.

Every now and then an actress comes along who can scratch a match in your veins and set your brain and heart aflame. For several weeks Young Miss McKenna has beeen doing just that to audiences in the off - Broadway Phoenix Theater with her electric portrayal of the tomboy saint in Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan."

Critics have acclaimed her the "greatest Joan of the century." And, indeed, who before her ever played Joan in Gaelic in Dublin . . . in English in London. . . with an Irish accent in Manhattan . . . and planned to do it in French in Paris?

What is Siobhan (pronounced "shh-vawn") like offstage? Well, she is so busy — almost every day a new Hollywood producer suddenly "discovers" her — that seeing her alone is only slightly less difficult than it would be to arrange a private game of crabgrass billiards with President Eisenhower.

Finally I arranged a luncheon date. It came during a break in a seven-hour rehearsal of an Oct. 15th NBC - TV presentation of Somerset Maugham's "The Letter," in which Miss McKenna portrays a cool - blooded murderess.

I noted that she seemed to be 5 feet 5 and 125 pounds of talent held together largely by freckles.

"I'm afraid that no one in the theater except Katie Hepburn has more than I do," she said ruefully. "In Gaelic freckles are called 'little trout,' and Irish girls who have them console themselves by saying they are signs of beauty.

"But as a child I used to try to scrub them off with buttermilk."

Siobham, daughter of a Galway University mathematics professor is a graduate mathematician herself and has a sister who is a dentist.

Her Irish flares up when anyone questions her desire to play Hamlet. After all, didn't Sarah Bernhardt?

"And why shouldn't a woman be Hamlet?" she asked. "He is, like Joan, an extraordinary figure. But Hamlet's problem is intellectual, rather than physical, so why should there be any great shock about having a woman play him?"

Bender, Lausche Trade Blasts

Speak At Luncheon Of Columbus Club

By The Associated Press

Republican Sen. George H. Bender, seeking reelection Nov. 6, and his Democratic opponent Gov. Frank J. Lausche engaged in their first face-to-face verbal exchange of the campaign Thursday.

The clash came at what was billed as a "non-political" luncheon meeting of the Thursday Club at the Spring Street YMCA in Columbus. The club a group of Negro business and professional men had invited Lausche to address the luncheon. Bender came at the request of a club member.

Bender told the luncheon he was campaigning on his record of 40 years in public life and said "I think you will find that my record is good for the common man."

In reference to a statement Lausche has made that under certain circumstances he might vote with the Republicans to organize the Senate, Bender said:

"His (Lausche's) saying that he is waiting to see how he is going to vote is a lot of malarkey. . . .

"We have never had it so good as we have under Eisenhower" Bender went on. "During almost four years, you have seen things happen. We can go on any public conveyance in Washington. To me, every man is equal."

At one point Lausche referred to an announced one-half-million-dollar goal set by the Ohio Republican Senatorial Finance Committee. There is no $500,000 in my coffers," he said. "There is $7,000, and none from real estate operators."

"They gave none to me," Bender shot back.

Lausche said Bender was "conveniently absent" when the Senate voted on the recent housing bill. Bender replied he had supported housing measures, to which Lausche answered: "You didn't vote on the last issue and you know you didn't vote."

The two candidates then accused each other of engaging in a 'hollering" contest.

Lausche, as the final speaker, spoke for 20 minutes, four more than Bender. He said that as former mayor of Cleveland he broke the barrier to have Negroes admitted into employment. . .

'Look into the departments of state. Wherever you go, you will find a fair share of Negroes," Lausche said.

The governor also reiterated previous assertion that "I am a Democrat second and an American first. I will never hesitate to cross party lines when I believe it will serve my country best."

C. William O'Neill, Republican candidate for governor, said in an interview at Springfield he feels the state should encourage the free enterprise system as much as possible regarding the operation of resorts and state parks.

"I am thoroughly familiar with the leasing policy of the present department," O'Neill said. "I disagree with it, and (if elected) I propose to change it and give cooperation to the resort owners."

Resort owners at both Indian Lake and Grand Lake (Lake St. Marys) have complained about alleged difficulties in getting leases renewed. They claim this hampers them in making long-range improvements in their facilities.

Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor, told an audience of Miami University students that, if elected, he would not feel bound to follow policies of the present Democratic state administration.

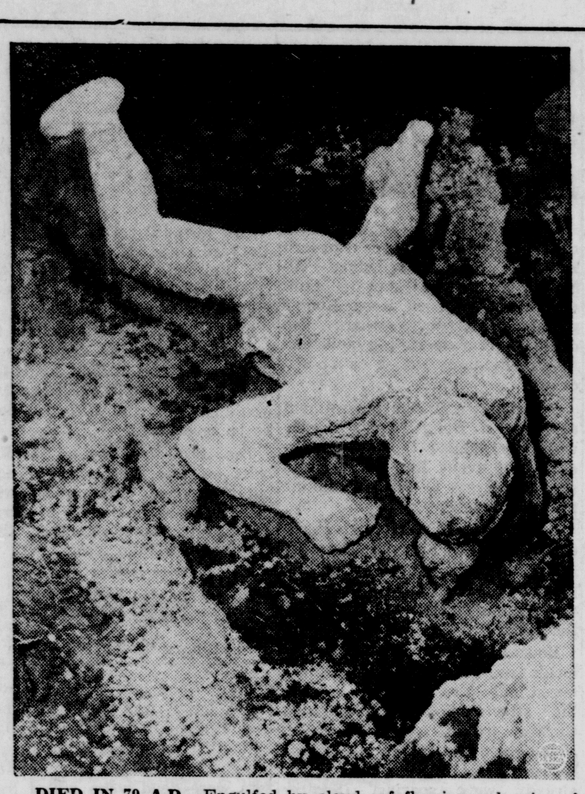

In answer to a student's question, DiSalle said:

"I would follow the policies of the present administration where I feel they are good, but I would not feel bound to precedent. There are fields in which I feel we should be moving faster."

DiSalle said examples of where faster action is needed are the state mental health and educations programs.

In Columbus, the Tennessee commissioner of agriculture told an audience of Ohio farmers that the "Eisenhower-Nixon-Benson" combination "was the greatest promise-busting crowd in the history of American politics."

Commissioner Budford Ellington, in a speech at a Democratic farm family rally at the Ohio State Fairgrounds, said Republicans "are trying to fool you (the farmers) with the soil bank" and that the GOP was "too busy doing something for big business and big industry."

Ike's Health, Segregation Big Factors In Florida Voting

(Editor's note: This is another in a series of articles by AP's political reporters who are surveying sentiment in key states across the country.)

By HENDRIX CHANDLER

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —The Presidential race in Florida appears so close that a strong political wind the week before election could blow it either way.

More voters than usual seem to be o the fence at this late date. But the real enigma in the picture is the big mass of some 200,000 new voters registered since 1952.

They are part of the big influx of newcomers, many of them from the Midwest and East, who are helping to make Florida one of the nation's fastest growing states. Others are natives who have just reached voting age.

Harold Ballew, managing editor of the St. Petersburg Independent in Republican - conscious Pinellas County, sees in the newcomers a largely Republican group he predicts will help keep Florida in the Eisenhower column.

But over in Putnam County, a normally Democratic county in northeast Florida which went for President Eisenhower by a slim 250 votes in 1952, you can get a different interpretation.

State Sen. B. C. Pearce of Palatka, Democrat, said that enough industrial workers with Democratic leanings have moved into that county within the past four years to tilt it to Adlai Stevenson.

The labor vote, while growing, hasn't yet developed into the statewide force it is in some of the more industrialized areas.

And the farm issue isn't too much of a factor in Florida. Florida's big crops — citrus, cattle and vegetables — get no subsidies and there has been no big clamor for them. The subsidy crops are grown in the traditionally democratic northern tier of counties.

Florida gave its 10 electoral votes to Eisenhower in 1952. He carried the state by 99,086 votes over Stevenson and got 55 per cent of the total vote.

The biggest factors in the Florida picture appear to be the state of Eisenhower's health and segregation, and these are contributing to some of the fence-sitting by voters.

Any substantial development on either the health or the segregation front between now and election time could be the weight that would upset the present balance.

Plans New Statements On H-Bomb Tests

Stevenson On Flying Campaign In California

OAKLAND Calif. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson who accuses President Eisenhower of "inaction" and "deception" led five Democrats today on a flying campaign through California.

"We have had enough of inaction and self-advertising" he said.

He contended that "when we lose ground abroad, we are assured that all is well" and he added: "I don't think" the public likes "to be told by Mr. Dulles and President Eisenhower that American prestige 'has never been higher' when it is manifestly untrue."

More On H-Bomb Tests

Stevenson also declared he would have more to say, probably Monday, about his proposals for ending hydrogen bomb tests.

After remarking that "I understand the President said x x x that he has said his last word on testing H - bombs and military manpower requirements," Stevenson said:

"Well, I haven't said mine and neither, my friends, have the people of this country who have the only last word."

Stevenson left it crystal clear that he regards his proposals for ending hydrogen bomb tests as one of the strong Democratic issues of the campaign.

"Next Monday," he said, "I expect to say more on this subject."

That, his staff said, will be in a nation-wide TV and radio address from either Chicago or his farm home at Libertyville, Ill. Negotiations are underway for a network outlet.

Stevenson's staff contends he has won widespread support from religious and educational leaders since he suggested the country "find a way" to halt the testing of the powerful H-bombs.

Eisenhower said Thursday his administration has done everything humanly possible to bring the H-bomb threat under international control and use atomic power for peaceful purposes.

Departing from his prepared text Thursday night, Stevenson told the Oakland rally: "I'll let them (the people) judge whether it is a "theatrical gesture," to quote President Eisenhower's phrase, to suggest a safe way to end the deadly competition to build and explode giant H-bombs which contaminate the very air we breathe and threaten no one knows what damage to generations yet unborn."

This last remark brought a storm of applause.

The Democratic presidential nominee made his latest attack on the GOP regime in a speech for a rally at Oakland Thursday night before he broke camp for his swing south to Fresno, Long Beach and San Diego.

With him were three governors George Leader of Pennsylvania Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and Frank G. Clement of Tennessee, and two senators—Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Albert M. Gore of Tennessee.

Their plans to "saturate" California in a bid for its critical 32 electoral votes called for them to fan out with Stevenson as he worked south, holding rallies of their own around him.

All of them but Clement, who was late in joining the group, appeared with Stevenson Thursday night on a nationwide television broadcast from San Francisco. They talked about Stevenson's proposal to give federal loans and grants to a voluntary private health insurance plan aimed at training more doctors and building more hospitals.

"In four years of this administration" Stevenson said "no real breakthrough in the battle for the people's health has been proposed."

In his Oakland speech Stevenson said voters are switching away from the GOP to the Democratic party.

Referring to a report in a recent book by Robert Donovan, New York Herald Tribune reporter, he said:

"Three years ago, we learn how even the Republican President got so disgusted with his party that he talked about forming a third party."

Stevenson said Republicans follow Eisenhower "at coat-tail distance as candidates but refuse to follow him at all as president."

He said that "after this election win or lose, the heir apparent will inherit leadership of the Republican party." He has been referring to Vice President Nixon as "the heir-apparent."

The Eisenhower administration record amounts to "much fine talk and no action" on farm, school, public resources, tax relief, living cost, civil rights and foreign policy problems, Stevenson said.

"And now we are being offered for campaign consumption a brand of Polyanna politics labeled peace, prosperity and progress," he said.

Boys Must Register On 18th Birthday

John Herman Jr., chairman of Selective Service Local Board No. 16 of Columbiana County, said today that there is a continuing responsibility for young men reaching 18 years of age to register under the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

He emphasized that each young man is required to register within five days after reaching his 18th birthday. Young men who are away from their homes at that time may go to any draft board in the area where they are situated, and register for Selective Service.

The draft board chairman called attention to the necessity of giving the proper home address because the address given will determine the local board having jurisdiction of his case at all times. He further pointed out that registrants should be able to identify their township of residence or their ward number so that their records will be properly identified.

Herman stated that failure to comply with the law could result in a punishment of not more than five years imprisonment or not more than $10,000 fine or both.

mate of damage to company property.

Kimble said Gov. Frank J. Lausche was notified of the attacks at about 11 p.m. and that the governor said he would notify the state highway patrol.

Meanwhile, in Columbus, plans were being made for union and company negotiators in the 90-day-old strike to carry their arguments to the state industrial commission.

Commission Chairman Richard W. Morse said no date has been set yet for the hearing but that it would be "soon."

Representatives of both company and union, after a meeting with Lausche, agreed Thursday to carry their stalemated negotiations on a new contract to the commission.

The governor said he and Col. George Mingle, superintendent of the state highway patrol, will continue an investigation of cable slashings in connection with the strike.

Lausche said the strike "has been longer than the public ought to endure." He said he urged federal mediators and the industrial commission to "proceed with hearings, keeping the contestants at work for the purpose of reaching a settlement."

Both sides met in Columbus with Federal Mediators Thursday but neither would comment on the meeting with the governor.

Uneasy Quiet Settles Over Kowloon Area

HONG KONG (AP) — An uneasy quiet settled today over riot-torn Kowloon and surrounding villages. Authorities kept a tight curfew clamped on Hong Kong's mainland territory where two days of frenzied rioting and factional fighting left 4 known dead.

The colony's British government also sealed Hong Kong's border with Communist China, presumably to prevent Red agents from slipping across to further inflame the atmosphere.

Acting Gov. E. B. Davis extended the curfew imposed Thursday until Saturday morning to give police a better chance to round up persons suspected of leading the riots.

Housewives in each of Kowloon's six curfew zones were allowed only two hours a day on the streets to buy provisions. Gurkha troops from Himalayan Nepal lined the streets as crowds rushed to the stores where prices already were soaring. Spotter planes hovered overhead.

Except for those hours, Kowloon was almost a dead city. Its streets were deserted, and most restaurants and all movie houses closed their doors.

Eighty of the 165 persons arrested during the rioting were brought into court and charged with rioting and unlawful assembly in a heavily guarded courtroom. They were ordered held for hearing on Tuesday.

In the first official Red reaction to the Nationalist rioting, the Peiping Peoples Daily said the Communists were watching "the situation closely" to determine whether Hong Kong security forces were able to protect the colony's Chinese residents.

The violence originated when a Hong Kong government official removed a Nationalist Chinese flag from the walls of a big refugee housing project in the Sham Po area. The largely pro-Nationalist mob directed its ire at foreigners and Communists.

Athlete

Nina had come to compete in.

Two weeks ago the British government refused a Soviet request that the case be dropped and suggested that the famous woman athlete be brought to court.

Nina wore a raincoat when she made her sudden court appearance. Temporarily, she took a seat in a room at the back of the court while the magistrate, Clyde Wilson, heard other cases.

The court room was packed and there were hundreds standing outside when today's hearing started. Miss Bolsen testified she began watching Nina when the Soviet athlete "looked all around her — looked furtively around her." She said she did not see Nina pay for the hats.

Another prosecution witness, Miss Ella Olive Hogg, a member of the store's staff, said she saw Nina put a red woolen hat up her left coat sleeve and then saw her pick up two bags with hats between them, holding them to her side while she walked away from the counter.

Nina bent forward, her face pale, as she listened attentively to the testimony, hrough an interpreter.

Wilson originally issued the warrant for the woman's arrest when she jumped her bail and failed to show up in court.

The arrest warrant was executed at the West End Central Police Station this morning and Nina was escorted to the court by detectives, including a woman policeman.

Police at first barred newsmen from entering the courtroom but later permitted a handful to enter.

Water Output Down; Revenue Increases

Water pumpage for the first nine months of 1956 has shown a decrease compared with the 1955 nine-month period, but water income has increased, Utilities Superintendent Aubrey Hayes reported today.

For the first nine months of 1956, pumpage totaled 413,013,000 gallons. For the same period last year, the figure was 438,035,000 gallons. Pumpage in September was 46,958,000 gallons.

Water revenue for the first nine months of this year totaled $135,935, as compared with the same period last year when the income amounted to $134,783. Collections last month totaled $13,949. The increase in revenue is attributed to new services.

Whereas sewage collections for the first nine months of 1955 came to $58,661.27, the figure for the similar period this year was $68,215.74. September, 1956 collections totaled $6,710.84.

NAVY GOES ROCKOON HUNTING—Pictured at left is a "rockoon," a rocket-carrying plastic balloon that the Office of Naval Research is using to probe secrets of near-space. Balloons 69 feet in diameter lift the 12-foot-long rockets to heights where relatively small propulsion charges will send them on their brief runs over the ocean off San Diego, Calif., after balloons are launched from a research ship. At right is the electronic "hound-dog" which tracks balloons and receives radio signals broadcast from instruments in the rockets. Data gathered will be used to prepare for more extensive probing of the upper atmosphere during the International Geophysical Year.

Dog Runs Away; Takes 6-Year-Old Boy Along

DETROIT (AP)—Six-year-old Donnie knew 5 - year old Beulah shouldn't be running away from home like that so he took out after her. He caught her, but his four-foot, 50 - pound frame was no match for her four-foot, 90-pound one, and Beulah had a yen to roam.

Donnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rivard and Beulah is their boxer dog.

Donnie said Beulah didn't want to go home, so he followed, yanking to no avail now and then on her chain collar.

Police spotted a big dog and a small boy trudging along more than a mile from Donnie's home. So when Donnie's alarmed parents called an hour later the police knew where to start looking.

"I'm lost," Donnie told policemen. "I didn't want to come down here, but Bulah did."

Judge To Rule On Powell Confession

CINCINNATI (AP)—Criminal Court Judge Charles S. Bell will rule Monday on whether an alleged confession by Denver Powell, 45, of El Centro, Calif., shall be introduced in evidence in Powell's first degree murder trial.

Powell is accused of having participated in the holdup-slaying of delicatessen operator Joseph Schreck on Nov. 27, 1949.

Judge Bell Thursday recessed the trial until Monday after having spent most of two days listening to testimony in connection with Powell's alleged confession. The jury has been excused during the testimony on the statement.

Powell has claimed he was questioned for many hours with only a glass of milk and a sandwich for food, that he had little sleep and that he was threatened and hit by police officers.

Detective Lytle Young, one of the interrogators, testified Thursday that Powell was treated "very courteously" and that he was neither threatened nor hit.

Asst. Prosecutor Donald Roney also denied that he made any special promises to Powell and said, "I urged him to tell the truth."

At one point, Defense Atty. George C. Allen said he was try George C. Allen said he was trying to show that Powell was "definitely under psychological pressure."

"I don't know what you are talking about — psychological pressure," Judge Bell said. ". . . I know of no confession that has been ruled out because of psychological pressure. Some may have been ruled out for physical force or promises but not for what's on a defendant's mind."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Angry politcal leaders are peeking into each others pockets right now to discover how much the other side is spending on the campaign — and to denounce each other for having the money to spend.

Victor Reisel

Point is that every presidential year the political treasurers on all sides spend about $140,000,000 in cash and that's just a small part of what it costs to elect your men.

Irritated Republicans are charging that labor is pouring millions into the Democratic campaign—and Walter Reuther coolly retorts that his union just about matches the expenditures of four millionaire families.

-:-

BOTH SIDES ARE right. And neither side is ever going to estimate the high cost of politicking — especially not the cost of labor's campaign. How, for example, can you fix the cost of the 62 national representatives of the Transport Workers Union which Mike Quill has peeled off his staff for the duration and assigned to the AFL - CIO national political machine.

How can you put money value on the 600 special canvassers which the New York Hatters Union has swung into the field to ring door bells?

Or how much does it cost for the men's clothing workers to put two-man teams — one speaking English, the other Spanish — into the shops at noon time to urge workers to register and vote and to hand out sample literacy tests to Puerto Rican workers?

What's the tab on other such teams who are going into one laundry a day to enthuse voters into the polling places?

-:-

TROUBLE IS THAT everybody wants to count the big money spent. There is Sen. Carl Curtis, who is allergic to labor's political activity. He comes up with what sounds like an authentic figure on labor's total radio and TV broadcasts. Curtis reports that there are between 1,500 and 2,000 union sponsored airwave shows a week.

Judging from what I've just observed in a swing around the eastern circle, that's about right. In New York alone, the CIO contracted with every radio station in the state for several announcements daily during registration week. Starting this week the first of four state-wide TV shows will be aired.

This goes on in almost every state in which there is a big central AFL or CIO council. Certainly most of the 35 Democratic Party state labor committees sponsor shows regularly.

-:-

BUT THOSE ARE just a small part of labor's campaign. The real drive, which will make or break the Democratic candidates, is made up of less dramatic, but intriguing campaign gimmicks the cost of which no one can estimate.

Reuther's Auto Union, for example, has a giant mobile political headquarters in the field, in the shape of a huge trailer which rumbles into community after community in advance of the Democratic Party's candidates throughout New York.

In Waterloo, Iowa, the labor council runs a contest, picking out winners at $100 a throw. To qualify, each winner must have registered and voted. If your spouse voted too, and you win, you get an additional $50.

-:-

WHEN I WAS OUT in Milwaukee last week, the Wisconsin labor people had rented the big South Side Armory for a "non-partisan" debate between Philleo Nash, chairman of the state Democratic party, and Philip Kuehn, his Republican counterpart. When the GOP chief arrived he found the place decorated with signs attacking Eisenhower and Nixon and wryly observed that neutrality was not exactly exuding from each delegate.

The audience finally voted 169 to 3 against President Eisenhower. This was, of course, labor's privilege. But it was more a campaign really than a debate and any cost accountant would have charged it off to the Stevenson campaign.

In Washington on Oct. 5, Democratic Party's Advisory Committee on Labor met and heard that some of its union affiliates had spent some time and some money on polls conducted by either outside opinion takers or their own people. The polls showed heavy support for Adlai Stevenson, according to word from the meetinb.

-:-

THERE ARE A thousand such incidents each day. They match, on the other side, contributions by business of "hotel suites, airplanes and even stamp machines" to political candidates.

The point is no one can count the actual cost of these indirect expenditures. Industry spends heavily. Labor spends heavily. And more and more the contenders are evenly matched.

ROLL-CALL OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP—Volunteers letter a three-block-long scroll in Wausau, Wis., with the names of all registered voters as they prepare for an all-out drive to become the first city in the nation to have 100 per cent registration for the forthcoming election. The scroll was to be carried in a torchlight parade as workers conducted a door-to-door campaign to smoke out every reluctant registrant before their Oct. 24 deadline.

Ohio State Buckeyes One-Touchdown Favorites Over Illinois

Roseboro, Clark To Pace Attack

Game Will Be 45th Between Schools

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's Bucks abandoned their ground attack today and took to the airways—just long enough to fly to Illinois for Saturday's Western Conference opener.

The Bucks, with victories over Nebraska and Stanford tucked away, are one - touchdown favorites over Ray Eliot's Illini who defeated California and then dropped a verdict to Washington.

Ohio State will be going after its third straight Big Ten title and its 14th straight conference victory, as well as the third in a row over Illinois. In the last 10 years the Bucks have won five, lost four and tied one with Illinois.

The two-game statistics give Ohio the slightest of edges. Each team has registered 36 first downs, the Illinois has allowed the foe to move 670 yards while Ohio has given up 667 yards.

Illinois has fumbled the ball away four times, and had two passes intercepted, but the Bucks haven't made a miscue.

Among the big questions is whether the Illini forward wall, averaging 210 pounds, can contain the Buck land assault. In two games the Ohioans have had the ball 24 times, scoring 10 touchdowns, punting nine times, losing it three times on downs, and the clock halting them twice.

One touchdown came on a blocked punt, but the Ohioans drove a total of 562 yards for the other nine—an average of 62.4 yards for each payoff under their "possession" type of play.

Saturday's game is the 45th in the long series dating back to 1902. Of the 44 to date, Ohio has won 25, lost 16 and tied 3. Game time is 1:30 p.m. (EST), and the crowd is expected to exceed 60,000.

The game will be telecast by NBC, and also will be carried by at least 14 Ohio radio stations.

Illinois, with quarterback Hiles Stout doing the passing, will offer a better balanced attack than Ohio's first two opponents. The Illini have gained 432 yards in 103 rushes, and 220 yards on completions of 14 of 30 aerials. Nebraska concentrated on a ground attack against Ohio, while Stanford took to the airways, with the Bucks halting both.

Abe Woodson, Illinois right halfback, is the all-around threat. He has scored two touchdowns, has a 41-yard average of eight punts, rushed 24 times for 106 yards and caught five passes for 107.

Ohio's two speedy halfbacks, sophomore Don Clark of Akron and Jimmy Roseboro, Ashland senior, have combined for 417 yards rushing in two games, each carrying 24 times. The entire Illinois team, in 103 rushes, has outgained the two Buckeye ground-eaters by only 15 yards. Clark and Roseboro have four touchdowns each for a 48-point total, three more than Illinois has amassed in two tilts.

Along with their brilliant running, Roseboro has caught two passes for 43 yards and a touchdown, and Clark completed his only aerial for 18 yards and a score.

John Holland Replaces Hack As Chicago Cubs Manager

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs are convinced that old brooms sweep cleaner.

They were expected to complete their house cleaning today by naming Bob Scheffing, one of their ex-catchers, as field manager.

There isn't much of a new look in the Cubs' shakeup from front office to the field which started Thursday when Personnel Director Wid Matthews, Business Manager Jim Gallagher and skipper Stan Hack resigned.

Returning to his third hitch with the club is Charlie Grimm. Joining him in the reorganized front office is John Holland, in baseball 35 of his 46 years and on the Cub pay roll the last 11.

They were given titles of vice president.

Holland, as president of the Cubs' Los Angeles farm in the Pacific Coast League, and Scheffing as field manager, produced a pennant this year.

Remaining as executive vice president of the Cubs is another veteran, 75-year-old Clarence (Pants) Rowland.

They have the assignment of lifting the Cubs up by the bootstraps after 10 dismal seasons in the National League second division.

The Cubs finished 1956 in last place for the fourth time since 1949 and with 94 defeats, worst record in their history.

Matthews was Branch Rickey's "talent man" with the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers when Cub owner P. K. Wrigley hired him in 1950. He is a smiling, 59-year-old gentleman who sincerely thought the Cubs were on the climb and received the brunt of criticism when they kept tailspinning.

No sooner had Wid resigned than Gabe Paul, general manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs, said that he "is a very capable fellow and we'd like to have him in our organization."

Gallagher, a former Chcago sports writer, had been with the Cubs since 1940. One rumor has him winding up across town wth the Whte Sox.

Hack was a long-time third baseman for the Cubs and managed the Des Moines and Los Angeles farm clubs before replacing one of his former teammates, Phil Cavarretta, at the helm in the spring of 1954. He was the Bruins' fourth manager in eight years.

Key man in the new order appears to be Holland, a stocky mildmannered man who cut his teeth on a baseball bat.

"There won't be any title except that of vice president," said Wrigley. "The only time you have to designate authority is when there is a conflict. There definitely will be no general manager. I'm allergic to them."

Vice President Grimm, however, said that "Holland is the 'general manager' and will run the show. I will work closely with the organization."

Grimm, who resigned last June as pilot of the Milwaukee Braves, has been a Cub favorite ever since he broke in as the team's first baseman in 1925. He was manager from 1932 until 1938, when he quit, and he returned to the club as manager in 1944.

The Cubs won the pennant under Grimm in 1932, 1935 and 1945, but started their nosedive in 1946. In 1949 Grimm was moved up to the post of vice president.

Grimm soon tired of his front office job. He resigned to accept an attractive contract to manage Dallas in the Texas League, departing ith the assertion that "these hands were never made to carry a briefcase."

He became manager of the Braves, then in Boston, in 1952.

Grimm, who says his new duties ill be to visit Cub farms, keep a sharp eye out for prospects, and hunt down any talent Holland may have in mind, now declares:

"I've finished my job on the field and if I have to grab a brief case now, I think I'll be able to do it with a little practice."

New York Giants Get Outfielder, 2 Pitchers

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants, who have promised their followers a new look next season, have started by selling a veteran pitcher to the Philadelphia Phillies and purchasing two promising farm hands from Minneapolis of the American Assn.

Jim Hearn, 33-year old right-hander who had a 5-11 record last season, was sold to the Phillies. In a companion deal, Minneapolis Millers purchased the contract of Stu Miller, another righthanded pitcher with a 4 - 9 mark, from the Phillies.

In the deal with the Millers, the Giants obtained outfielder Willie Kirkland and righthanded pitcher Curt Barclay. Kirkland, 22, hit .293 and drove in 120 runs while collecting 35 doubles, 12 triples and 37 home runs for the Millers. Barclay, 25, finished with a 15-11 record.

Alumni Grid Game Planned

Salem, Leetonia Clubs Study Possibilities

Coach Earle Bruce discussed this Friday night's encounter with the undefeated East Palestine Bulldogs when the Booster Club met last night at the Memorial Building. Movies of last week's game with Newton Falls were shown.

During the meeting, Guy Beltempo, representing the Leetonia Boosters Club, said the Leetonia club wanted to arrange a Leetonia alumni versus a Salem alumni football game at the conclusion of the season.

A committee was chosen to study the possibilities of having such a game.

Dave Brisken, John Cabas, Peanuts Denor, Fred Cope, Paul Harp, J. S. Jones, E. P. Schmauch, Reno Menichelli, Aldom Smith and John Sebo, committeemen, will meet with representatives from Leetonia Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Memorial Building.

System Of Selecting Olympic Members Hit

OXFORD Ohio (AP)—Glenn Cunningham once America's top mile runner calls the American system of selecting Olympic team members through qualifying meets "completely insane."

Cunningham, speaking Thursday at an assembly of high school pupils blamed the qualifying system for America's poor showing in Olympic middle and long distance runs. And he predicted this country would fare badly in this year's Olympics in those events.

American Olympic team members are selected in qualifying meets and previous performances are not considered.

"The men are run to death before they get to the games" said Cunningham.

"Consistency of performance should mean something in qualifying."

Philadelphia—Jimmy Soo, 139 Philadelphia, stopped Billy Jones, 136, Allentown, Pa., 5.

Detroit Red Wings Beat Black Hawks

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Red Wings, ousted last season by Montreal as the king pin of the National Hockey League after a 7-year reign, have lost no time declaring their intentions for the 1956-57 campaign.

The Wings opened the NHL schedule Thursday night with a 3-1 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks in one of the two games which ushered in the new season. In the other the Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston's Bruins played to a 4-4 tie.

The Red Wings spotted the Black Hawks an early goal and then rallied in the last two periods for victory. After Hank Ciesla had scored for the Hawks, Norman Ullman and Metro Prystai tallied in the second period to send the Wings ahead. Veteran Ted Lindsay added an insurance goal in the final session.

OSU-Illinois Tilt Tops Grid Card

Buckeyes Seek 3rd Big 10 Championship

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State's opening defense of its Big Ten football title against Illinois tops card of four conference games Saturday.

The Buckeyes, victorious over Nebraska and Stanford in tune-up encounters, hope to nail down an unprecedented third successive Big Ten championship this season. They place a record of 13 straight conference victories on the line at Illinois.

The Illini also will be opening its Big Ten campaign after defeating California and losing to Washington.

Michigan State, Iowa and Minnesota, each with one league decision so far, will try to remain atop the standings in conference clashes.

Minnesota's Gophers, who whipped Purdue 21-14, are host to Northwestern. Michigan State, off an important 9-0 decision over Michigan, entertains Indiana. Iowa, with a 27-0 opening season win over Indiana, is at home to Wisconsin.

Each of the home teams is favored to capture its second Big Ten triumph.

Northwestern has a 1-1 non-league record with a 14-13 edge over Iowa State and a 20-13 loss to Tulane. Indiana, in addition to being trounced by Iowa, was dropped 20-6 by Notre Dame. Wisconsin, after opening with a 41-0 field day against Marquette, was defeated 13-6 by Southern California.

Rounding out the schedule is the Michigan-Army game at Ann Arbor and Purdue at Notre Dame.

The favorites are rated this way: Ohio State by 13 over Illinois, Iowa by 3 over Wisconsin, Notre Dame by 7 over Purdue, Michigan by 13 over Army, Minnesota by 14 over Northwestern and Michigan State by 27 over Indiana.

Golf Pros Adopt Rules Governing Conduct

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Golf's professionals seeking better relations with sponsors, the public and newsmen have instituted a program of self-examination.

Ed Carter the new tourney bureau manager of the Professional Golfers Assn. told of the self-examination plans today during the Western Open.

All the committees are due to present reports and recommendations in December.

To eliminate such things as temper tantrums Carter envisions a rule designating "conduct unbecoming a gentleman."

"No golfer wants that said of him" Carter says in explaining a feeling that the "ungentlemanly" tag will gain more results than monetary fines.

'We hope to achieve an overhaul on everything being covered by the committees."

These groups include threesomes studying press relations proposed rule changes commitments and withdrawals and other elements affecting proper conduct of tournaments.

Salem Tool Cagers To Hold Practices

Oklahoma Sooners Expect To Make Record 'Official'

By MIKE RATHET
The Associated Press

Oklahoma's Sooners expect to make it official Saturday.

Bud Wilkinson's lads went out and lashed Kansas State 66-0 last week to apparently snap their own major college record for consecutive wins, making the wildcats their 32nd straight victim.

But the NCAA Service Bureau Thursday came up with a new wrinkle and decided that Pittsburgh held the previous record from 1914-1919 by accumulating 33. The Sooners should have little trouble equaling the Panthers' record against Texas.

Oklahoma, No. 1 in the weekly Associated Press poll, ironically gets and opportunity to tie the mark against the same team it defeated to start its string. In 1953 the Sooners overcame the stubborn Longhorns 19-14.

The nation's second-ranked team the Spartans from Michigan State, go after their third in a row tonight, meeting Indiana, which bowed to Notre Dame last week. The Spartans will be minus the services of their rugged halfback Walt owalczyk, who has an ailing ankle.

In the only major action tonight, Miami, straining to hop into the nation's top 10 teams, meets the weakened Maryland squad.

All the top teams, except Southern California, see action Saturday. Georgia Tech, No. 3 on the basis of two tough wins—Kentucky 14-6 and Southern Methodist 9-7, will display its most potent offense against Louisiana State. For the first time this season quarterback Wade Mitchell and half George Volkert will be together.

Fourth-ranking Texas Christian should be able to spring Jim Swink loose against winless Alabama. Ohio State (No. 5) faces a tough challenge in Big Ten opponent Illinois, while Tennessee (No. 6) tackles Chattanooga. Mississippi (No. 7) faces a stern test in upset - minded Vanderbilt. Ninth-rated Texas A&M battles Houston at night and 10th rated Baylor with three victories, meets the Razorbacks of Arkansas.

In the Ivy League, Brown and Dartmouth clash in a battle of also rans. Columbia will try to get its initial score of the season against Yale. Penn will be looking to lengthen its one - game winning streak at the hands of favored Princeton, and Cornell plays Harvard.

In other eastern tests, Boston U. meets George Washington under the lights and Syracuse hosts West Virginia.

On the coast, California is at Oregon State; Stanford tests San Jose State; UCLA battles Washington State, and Washington meets Oregon.

Calhoun-Sullivan Fight Set Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Both Rory Calhoun and John L. Sullivan, who fight in a middleweight 10-rounder at the arena tonight, hope to get Joey Giardello as next opponent. And the experts hereabouts say Calhoun will be the one whose hope is still alive Saturday.

But the experts were wrong in placing their bets two weeks ago when Giardello whipped Bobby Boyd and sent his stock as a middleweight contender way up.

Giardello, who hasn't been committed to met tonight's winner, will be on hand to watch Sullivan, veteran from England, swap punches with the 22-year-old Calhoun, an Atlanta minister's son now fighting out of White Plains, N.Y.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 9 p.m., EST.

Salem Frosh Beat Alliance Stanton

The Salem freshman football team won a thriller Thursday afternoon at Reilly Stadium when it defeated a fighting squad from Stanton of Alliance 12-6.

Late in the second quarter, Fred Phillis pranced around right end for four yards and a touchdown to climax a 76-yard Salem drive. The extra point was missed.

Midway in the third period, the Stanton eleven started rolling and moved 60 yards, with Frank Muniz going the last 36 yards on an end sweep for the tally. The try for extra was missed.

The Quaker yearlings came through with the clincher with just a minute and thirty seconds remaining, when Fred Phillis scored his second six-pointer of the afternoon, going six yards around left end, after a 65 yard march.

American Hockey League Opens Play

By The Associated Press

The American Hockey League, with Rochester replacing Pittsburgh in the six-team circuit, opens its 21st season tonight with the Providence Reds starting defense of their title at home against the Buffalo Bisons.

With three games scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, all of the clubs will be in action, both at home and on the road, by the end of the first weekend of the new season.

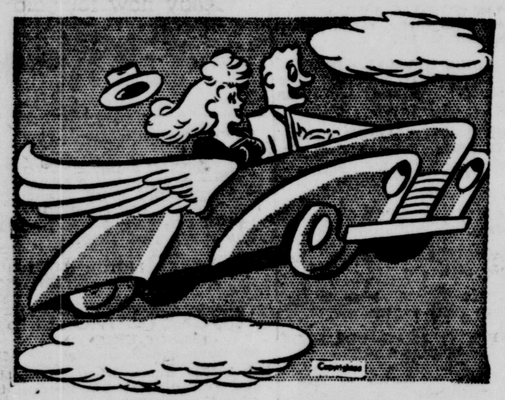

On Saturday, the Rochester Americans play at Cleveland, Buffalo at Springfield and Providence at Hershey. Sunday Hershey travels to Buffalo, Cleveland to Rochester and Springfield to Providence.

Particular interest centers around the pair of games which the Americans play against the Cleveland Barons. The Americans represent the first professional hockey team in Rochester since 1935-36.

Western Open Tourney In Second Round

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A tightly bunched field of tournament veterans took out today after a pair of relatively obscure 68 shooters in the second round of the Western Open Golf Tournament.

Defending champion Cary Middlecoff of Dallas shot a 2-under-par 70 in his opening round to stay within easy reach of the front - running Californians who burned up the windy Presidio course in 4 under par Thursday.

The starting field of 162 was whacked for the second round, with 25 of the lesser lights sidelined as Chula Vista professional Bill Casper and Alameda amateur Johnny McMullin set out to show whether their initial 68s were flashes in the pan or whether this was their time to take the big name contingent.

Right up there with a 69 for a starter was pro Don January, Lampasa, Tex., former North Texas State College ace. He won the Dallas Centennial Tournament, a $6,000 show last May and is the 18th ranking money winner among the pros.

Tied with Middlecoff at 70 were George Bayer giant slugger from Grossingers, N.Y.; Jay Herbert, Sanford, Fla.; amateur Ed Castagnetto, San Francisco; Big Mike Souchak, Durham, N.C.; Ron Nicol, Los Angeles; and Lloyd Mangrum, Apple Valley, Calif.

Except for Casper and the surprising McMullin, nobody tore the three-lined rolling Presidio course apart in the opening round, although 18 players turned in subpar cards and 12 more succeeded in doing it in par.

Consider Franchise Shift For Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Calvin Griffith said he would seek today to persuade President Will Harridge of the American League to keep an open mind on a possible franchise shift for the Washington Senators.

Harridge said in Chicago Thursday the league "could not afford" to call a meeting to consider transfer of the franchise unless there was harmony among Washington officials.

That was a reference to the statement by H. Gabriel Murphy, club treasurer and largest single stockholder, that he opposes any plan to move the Senators out of Washington and will fight it in the courts if necessary.

Murphy owns 40 per cent of the Washington baseball club stock. Members of the family of the late Clark Griffith control 52 per cent. Calvin Griffith, the club president, has said he is seriously weighing a shift to Los Angeles or some other city.

The deadline for any franchise shift to become effective next year is Oct. 31. Harridge said there would be nothing to gain if Griffith asked fellow club owners to take up the matter "unless all stockholders were represented in the request."

A franchise shift requires favorable votes from six of the eight clubs in the loop.

Reveals Berra Advice Helped Win Series

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Catcher Yogi Berra gave the Yankees some sound advice as well as some sound hitting in the World Series, a co-owner of the New York club said today.

Del Webb, who flew into Phoenix from New York, said Berra got into a Yankee strategy huddle Tuesday night and swung the group in favor of starting young Johnny Kucks in the final series game.

Webb said Berra advised: "Let Kucks pitch and the Dodgers'll beat it into the ground."

The way it turned out, the Dodgers got only three hits off Kucks and managed to hit only five balls into the outfield as the Yanks won 9-0—with some help from two Berra homers.

Ohio Correction Chief Says State Needs Crime Prevention Bureau

By BILL TERRY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Where can you get the complete picture of crime in Ohio?

How do you know which communities are doing the best job of preventing crime? Where do you find the most major crimes, and why?

M. C. Koblentz, chief of the state division of correction, would like to know the answers. He thinks many more Ohioans are interested in them, too.

But you just can't put your hand on them readily, and Koblentz would like to correct that.

Koblentz would like to see a new agency formed—either a private or public body—that would take on the job of crime prevention on a statewide basis. It would deal with both adult and juvenile crime.

"There now is no Ohio governmental agency whose prime responsibility is crime prevention," Koblentz says. The present agencies are concerned mainly with catching, detaining and treating the criminal.

"Sure, some big police department may have crime prevention bureaus, but no department makes this its main business."

Its a big field, Koblentz admits, and some churches, welfare agencies, schools civic groups and others are interested in particular phases.

"They're sincere and doing a good job as far as they can go," says Koblentz. "But they individually are unable to cope with the total crime prevention problem. There are a number of reasons. Maybe there aren't enough properly - trained people. Perhaps there's not enough money.

"What Ohio needs," he continued, 'is a central clearinghouse where the good work now being done on a limited basis can be recognized and passed on to other communities as examples.

"This central agency—and it doesn't necessarily have to be part of government—would meet head-on the problem of preventing crime. It would gather and correlate statistics on crime in Ohio and Pinpoint the high crime areas.

"It would interchange crime prevention programs among various communities, so everyone would know at once which programs work, which don't produce too good results.

"If a community requested," he went on, "the agency would supply persons trained in establishing and developing programs to combat adult and juvenile delinquency."

Koblentz and his assistants give many talks before civic and other groups. In the coming months they will explain Koblentz's idea for the agency. And they'll also be listening, for suggestions on how it can be set up.

Koblentz is a director of the American Correctional Assn. and is vice president of the Central Correctional States Assn. Members of the two groups are concerned about the way prison populations have jumped since the end of World War II.

Ohio's prison population at the end of that war was 6,600. It stands at 10,600 now and Koblentz predicts that in two years it will be 12,000.

Since 1950, crime increased 27 per cent nationally while the population of the United States rose 7 per cent. During the first six months of this year major crime throughout the nation increased 14 per cent over those during the corresponding months of 1955. That was the highest percentage increase in the last 10 years and is based on Federal Bureau of Investigation records.

Ohio courts now report annually to the secretary of state, cases brought before them. These don't include unsolved crimes or those for which there were no indictments.

"We're treating the symptoms of crime, the offenders, but we're not doing enough to determine and stamp out the causes of crime," Koblentz said.

"A police department is primarily set up to catch and hold criminals" he added "even though its officials may have a desire to do more crime prevention work."

Koblentz estimates major crime costs Ohio one-half billion dollars a year.

"That's a lot of money and a statewide agency to determine and tell others about the best ways o preven crime certainly would pay for itself."

NO CHARGE FILED

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Hey diddle, diddle, the cat and the fiddle, the cow jumped over the police cruiser—well, she almost did.

A Holstein cow wandered away from an east side stockyards and led police a merry chase. At one point, she was sprawled over the hood of a new police cruiser when she failed to get enough lift in her leap.

Although the cruiser was damaged, the cow was not charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

Nixon Accuses Democrats Of 'Cruel Hoax'

COLUMBUS Neb. (AP) — Vice President Nixon accused Democrats today of "a cruel hoax" to snare the farm vote.

The high rigid price support policies they advocate, Nixon said in a talk prepared for the National Mechanical Corn Picking Contest would slam a lid on what he termed "the upward trend in farm income."

To farmers considered by both parties to be restive this election year Nixon said:

"The get-rich-quick promises that our opponents have made . . . are just as impossible to keep with the type of program they advocate as would be their promise to guarantee rain in the drought-stricken areas."

Nixon urged the farmers to put their faith in the administration program that includes flexible price supports a soil bank plan under which farmers can qualify for benefits by taking some land out of production and efforts to increase markets for farm products.

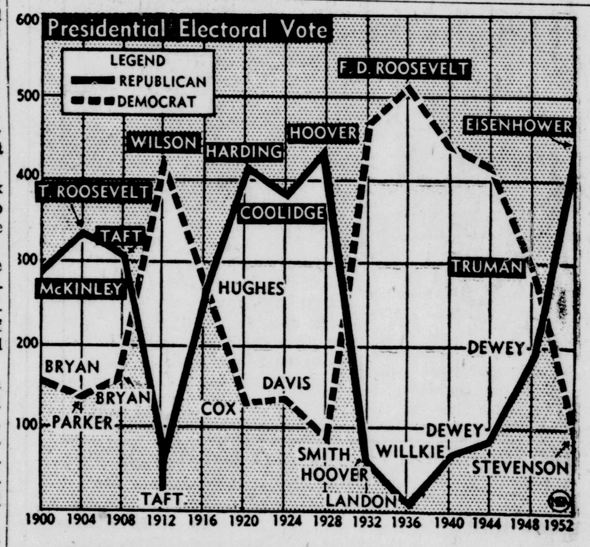

This program Nixon said "is working and will continue to work because it cuts right to the heart of the problem."

Nixon's foray into the farm battlefield followed by a day his retort to Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson's charge the Republican administration has shown indifference to the interests of labor, the unemployed and other segments of society.

The vice president stepped up his campaign pace with a speech at Boulder, Colo., Thursday night in which he described Stevenson's proposals for the economic future as "Alice in Wonderland" economics "a costly grab-bag of government goodies" that would cost 15 to 20 billion dollars annually raising the average family's taxes $320 a year if the budget were to be balanced.

CELEBRATES COLUMBUS DAY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus celebrates Columbus Day today by placing wreaths at two statutes of the famed explorer for which the city was named. The statutes are at the statehouse and city hall grounds. The holiday also closed state liquor stores and agencies throughout Ohio.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE—Newschart shows the ups and downs of the electoral vote since 1900 when McKinley defeated Bryan. In 1932, Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the Democrats into the White House where they remained for 20 years. In the 56 years since the turn of the century the Republicans and Democrats each have been in power for 28 years. In the 1936 election Franklin D. Roosevelt showed he was the champion vote-getter by amassing 523 electoral votes, an all-time high. That same year, Alfred M. Landon polled only eight, smallest total recorded by a major party candidate in modern times.
